

Fight Over Urban Redevelopment Delays Session End

Hope for Vote By This Evening On Labor Bill

Some Senators Expect Debate to Go Into Next Week

Washington — (AP) — Amid partisan disputes over the value of changes already made, the senate moved on today to more controversial amendments to a bill designed to curb labor union abuses.

With a 12-hour session behind them, some senators predicted the bill could be disposed of by late tonight. Others said the debate would go into next week.

Eleven amendments were voted on yesterday in a long day and night of political jockeying. Nine were offered by Republicans.

Ten of the amendments were adopted, most of them without any dispute. Several cleaned up points in the bill objected to by the Eisenhower administration.

Call Changes Trivial
Republicans professed themselves well satisfied with the first day's results, contending that acceptance of the amendments showed the bill had many holes.

Democrats replied that many of the amendments were trivial, and were offered in an effort to give backing to GOP charges that the original version was soft on labor.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), floor manager for the bill, opposed only one of the amendments. It was beaten 47-38, but it affected only a minor section of the bill. However, some senators thought this vote might set a pattern for defeat of the more stringent amendments to be offered later by Republicans.

Faces Charge of 200,000 Murders During War Years

Los Angeles — (AP) — A hearing will be held Monday for a man charged with 200,000 murders.

The Yugoslav government brought the charges against Andrija Artukovic, 57, for his wartime activities in Croatia—now a part of Marshal Tito's nation.

Yugoslavia wants to extradite Artukovic, who now lives in Surfside, a small town south of Los Angeles.

Artukovic says that if he is sent back to Yugoslavia he will be executed.

In 1941 and 1942 Artukovic was minister of the interior in the "independent state of Croatia" set up under the German invaders.

In this capacity he ordered the deaths of tens of thousands of Serbs and Jews living in Croatia, the present Yugoslav government charges.

But Artukovic has maintained in his 61-year fight to stay in the United States that he had nothing to do with the secret police, ordered no executions and had no one arrested.

Lawmakers Aim At Adjournment This Afternoon

Madison — (AP) — The legislature, meeting for the third straight day in special session, was expected to clean up its business by early afternoon so Democratic lawmakers could attend their party's state convention.

Plans for ending the session Thursday night were abandoned when a proposal for establishing urban redevelopment authorities ran into heavy opposition before it reached the assembly floor. A revised form of the bill will be considered in both houses today and speedy passage is expected.

Gov. Thomson's proposal to extend and increase unemployment compensation benefits cleared the senate 29-2 Thursday and was sent to the assembly. The only business left to be considered by the senate is an assembly-passed bill which would amend the one-year residency law. It cleared the assembly 94-0.

Jobless Benefits
The jobless benefits bill, as passed by the senate, provides for extending benefits from 26½ to 39½ weeks. The senate approved an amendment, offered by Sen. William Trinke, Lake Geneva, Republican, which would increase weekly benefits temporarily from $38 to $42. They would revert to the $38 weekly level upon expiration of a worker's extended maximum period.

Another amendment, offered by Trinke and providing for no increase in the weekly maximum, was defeated 26-4. Still another, offered by Sen. Lynn Staibbaum, Racine Democrat, providing for a permanent increase in the maximum to $42 a week, was defeated 20-11.

The bill as sent to the Assembly is almost identical to the governor's proposal.

No U. S. Funds Involved
It would permit the extended and expanded benefits to become effective June 21. They would terminate in July, 1959. No federal funds would be involved. Cost of the program would be met from reserves in the state unemployment compensation fund.

The assembly, in approving a change in the one-year residency law, rejected several Democrat-sponsored amendments. One would have appealed a major portion of the law, passed in the 1957 session. The measure as sent to the Senate would enable Wisconsin residents who leave the state to retain their eligibility for public assistance if they return in one year.

Most of the assembly debate on the relief measure dealt with arguments over why a change in the one-year residency law was being considered in a special session.

Republicans said weaknesses in the law showed up after it was in operation. Democrats argued that they had warned the majority party about the weaknesses before the bill was ever passed but had been completely ignored.

Officer Fatally Hurt in Air Force Base Tragedy

BY JERRY O'BRIEN

Spokane — Lt. Thomas Vrana, 23, the public relations officer who was run over by a 24-ton bulldozer while taking pictures of the ground breaking ceremonies at Fairchild Air Force base, died in a hospital last night.

The young lieutenant from Pittsburgh, Pa., was badly mangled in the lower part of his body when the heavy machine, operated by the base commander, Col. Willard B. Atwell, pinned him to the ground after he slipped during ceremonies marking the start of a $4,000,000 base housing project Wednesday.

Vrana had jumped up on the front of the bulldozer to take a picture of Atwell and slipped when the machine started to move. The regular operator

Social Security Pay Now Above Income

More Disbursed in Benefits Than Received by System

Washington — (AP) — For the first time in its history, the social security system is paying out more in benefits this year than it is taking in from taxes and interest.

Its trustees reported to congress today that the old age and survivors insurance (OASI) trust fund will drop about $428 million in the fiscal year ending June 30, and may show a total decline of three to four billion dollars for the 5-year period ending June 30, 1962.

But they emphasized that for the long-range future the system remains in balance for all practical purposes. They said the trust fund total should start another long-term rise in 1965.

The trust fund reached a peak of $23 billion last June 30. The estimated 5-year drop still would leave 19 to 20 billion dollars in the trust fund, which was set up specifically to meet such fluctuations.

Increases in several classes of benefit payments were cited by the trustees in making their revised estimates. They included:

More claims than expected were filed by persons first brought under the law in 1954 or 1956, especially farmers. Many of these people were already past retirement age and large numbers could qualify for benefits in a short period. This situation cannot be repeated because more than 9 out of 10 workers are now covered and no large groups remain to be covered in the future, the report said.

More Women Benefit
More women than expected have chosen to take a reduced benefit at age 62 instead of a full benefit at age 65. The report said this has no significant effect on the long-term cost. On the average, it said, the women will receive the same total amount of money regardless of which choice they make.

Because of the economic recession some older workers find it more difficult to keep or find a job, thus more than had been expected retired and applied for benefits.

It was noted that the recession also tends to reduce tax contributions to the system below previous estimates.

Tight Curfew Seeks to End Cyprus Fighting

Denies Rivals Downgraded Or Missing

BY ROY ESSOYAN

Moscow — (AP) — Former Premier Nikolai Bulganin has undergone a serious operation but is expected to return to work within a week or so, Premier Nikita Khrushchev said last night.

Khrushchev denied reports that Bulganin, former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov or communist theorist Mikhail A. Suslov has been politically downgraded or worse.

He told correspondents at a British embassy reception Sunday that Bulganin is alive and well.

"If you want to see Suslov go to Sochi (a Black sea resort), rent a bathing suit and go swimming with him," Khrushchev said. Suslov will return to Moscow within three or four days, the premier added, but he has accumulated leave coming to him and will leave again soon.

"We (members of the communist party presidium) take our vacations in turn," Khrushchev said.

"If you want to see Bulganin buy a bouquet of flowers and go visit him at the hospital," he said, but he did not name the hospital.

As far as Malenkov is concerned, Khrushchev declared, "you can buy a ticket and go visit him. I have not seen him in a long time but the last time I heard he was alive and well."

De Gaulle Aims His Objectives

Wants President to Have Power to Discharge Premiers

Paris — (AP) — Premier Charles de Gaulle unwrapped his ideas for a stronger executive today, proposing to give French presidents the power to fire premiers and dissolve parliaments.

Cabinet ministers disclosed this after he told them privately about his thinking on sweeping constitutional changes. He will carry his program to the people in a referendum this fall.

French presidents are chiefs of state but have little real authority.

The ministers said they wanted the president elected by a larger representation of the people.

Election now is by the combined national assembly and senate. De Gaulle was said to favor an electoral college drawn from departmental councils and corresponding roughly to the U. S. electoral college.

The ministers said De Gaulle wants to bar assembly deputies from holding cabinet posts and to strengthen the senate and make it a federal body including representatives from all French territories.

De Gaulle meanwhile moved to re-establish civilian control over the island of Corsica. He sent Guy Lamassoure there as new civilian prefect (governor) to replace the prefect ousted by the Corsican Committee of Public Safety May 24.

Girl Confesses She Killed Father

Mokane, Mo. — (AP) — A 17-year-old high school valedictorian, voted the most popular girl in her graduating class last semester, told authorities today she shot her father to death as he slept last night.

Coroner Harry Stewart said Jo Ann Taylor admitted shooting her father, Joseph M. Taylor, 42, four times with his .32-caliber revolver.

Stewart quoted her as saying Taylor, a part-time farmer and construction worker, had been coming home nights drunk and beating her mother.

Mrs. Taylor told Stewart she hid in a closet when her husband called for her last night, then ran out into the yard with another daughter, Jessie Lee, 19, just before the shooting.

Jo Ann was charged with second degree murder. She posted $5,000 bond. A preliminary hearing was set for June 25.

Lebanese Fight Will Continue, Rebels Assert

Leaders Declare UN Intervention Won't Stop Them

Beirut — (AP) — Lebanese rebel leaders vow they will fight on against pro-western President Camille Chamoun despite the intervention of the U.N. security council.

The vanguard of a U.N. observation group made plans today to carry out a security council directive to watch for the arms and men the Lebanese government accuses President Nasser's United Arab Republic of sending from the neighboring Syrian province to help the rebels.

After a long meeting last night, rebel leaders said if the council really wants to end the 5-week crisis it should bar arms for the government from the United States, Britain, France, Turkey, Iraq and Jordan.

Arabs Blame West
"It is these arms which constituted the primary cause of the tragic turn of events in Lebanon," a rebel statement said.

The United States and Britain have made no secret of their arms shipments to the Lebanese government, a legal regime and an ally. But there has been no evidence of shipments from the other nations the rebels named, and the idea appeared to be to incite pro-Nasser elements against favorite targets of U.A.R. propaganda.

New York — (AP) — A 15-year-old high school student lost his left hand yesterday when a giant firecracker he was trying to make exploded in a classroom.

Angelo Rosselli, described by school officials as an outstanding student, was trying to convert 30 firecrackers into a single super firecracker for the Fourth of July.

If his condition was described as critical.

British troops headed off part of the Greek mob, arresting 30 and disarming the rest, but one group set fire to crops and was attacked by hidden Turks. Seventeen Turks were arrested.

In another clash, club-swinging British troops broke up a Turkish mob trying to storm a Nicosia police station. Authorities clamped a curfew on the Turkish section of town earlier than usual.

Off and on for several years Green Cypriots have attacked British troops in a terror campaign for independence and a chance to join Greece. Now the British find themselves in the middle as the Turks strike at their Greek neighbors in opposition to the campaign.

Britain Sends Paratroops To Island Colony in Effort To Calm Greeks and Turks

Nicosia, Cyprus — (AP) — Only British troops walked the streets of Nicosia today as authorities clamped on the first 100 per cent curfew in an effort to end communal fighting.

Britain also ordered paratroopers to the Mediterranean island colony to strengthen her troops trying to end continuing clashes between Greek and Turkish Cypriots. Eleven Cypriots have been killed since Saturday.

Since the outbreak of communal rioting, the Greek and Turkish communities had been allowed out of doors separately for several hours daily to get food and other essentials. Today even that was prohibited and such pass holders as doctors, civil servants and reporters were included in the prohibition.

British plans for the future of Cyprus—to be announced Tuesday—are expected to intensify the violence by failing fully to satisfy either the 400,000 Cypriots of Greek descent or the 100,000 Turks.

The situation approached civil war yesterday with the bloodiest battle yet. A gang of 300 Greek Cypriots tried to raid a Turkish village near Nicosia and was met with gunfire. Three Greeks were killed and nine wounded.

Effort Seen to 'Manage' News

Defense Department Accused of Trying To Look Good

Washington — (AP) — The house government information subcommittee today accused the defense department of trying to "manage" the news to make itself look good instead of concealing only true military secrets.

The dissenting Republican member on the 3-man subcommittee, Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.), in turn charged the subcommittee itself with managing the news and acting as if it could run the whole executive branch.

The majority and minority reports covering two years' study of defense department information practices were approved by the parent government operations committee.

Threat to Government
Chairman John E. Moss (Calif.) and Rep. Dante Fascell (Fla.), the subcommittee's Democratic majority, said the American form of government is being threatened by what they termed a Pentagon claim of power to decide what data congress should and should not have.

They said the department imposes policy censorship on officials' speeches which actually fosters security breaches by those who disagree with the top policy of the moment. They cited handling of information about missile firings as a prime example of what they portrayed as cover-up to prevent embarrassment.

"Under the president's new orders for still further centralization and control," they added, "it appears that information officers of the various services may be relegated to the status of a ventriloquist's dummy on the knee of the defense department's publicity man."

"The vast military establishment, thus, would speak with one voice—and that the voice of a politically appointed propaganda expert."

Ike Asks Creation Of Aviation Agency to Avert Air Collisions

Washington — (AP) — President Eisenhower today asked congress to create a new federal aviation agency in an effort to avert air collisions in this jet age.

The senate already is holding hearings on a bill by Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) with the same general objectives. That proposal calls for unifying all air traffic control, both civil and military.

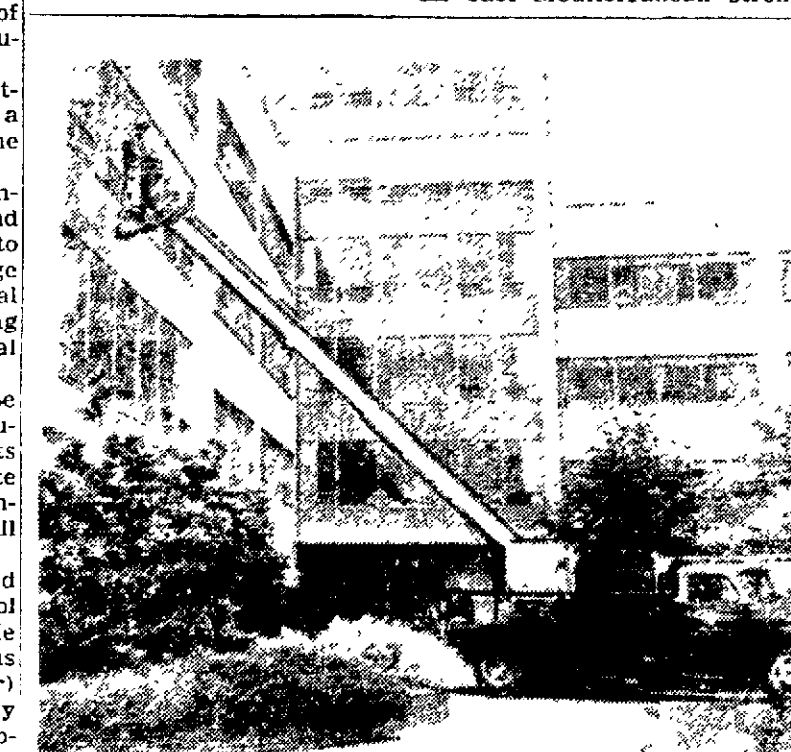

The White House announcement did not mention that measure.

Eisenhower, in a special message, proposed that the existing civil aeronautics administration be abolished and that its functions be absorbed by the new agency.

"Recent midair collisions of aircraft, occasioning tragic losses of human life, have emphasized the need for a system of air traffic management which will prevent, within the limits of human ingenuity, a recurrence of such accidents," Eisenhower said.

Gettelman Confirmed As Customs Collector

Washington — (AP) — The senate today approved President Eisenhower's nomination of Bernhard Gettelman to continue as customs collector at Milwaukee.

Those Rules Against Visits to Patients by younger children at the Seattle Children's Orthopedic hospital didn't stop Mike Stammon, 7, from seeing his brother, Korey, 5, at the hospital Thursday. Mike's father, a construction superintendent, took Mike up to the window of Korey's room in a cage atop a telescope boom (upper photo). # Democrat Calls for Ike to Fire Adams

Rep. Mack Says Action Would Be in Keeping With President's Pledge for Clean Government

BY LEWIS GULICK
Washington — Rep. Peter F. Mack Jr. (D-Ill.) said today President Eisenhower should fire Sherman Adams. Mack said this would be in keeping with the Eisenhower campaign pledges for a government "clean as a hound's tooth."

Three other Democrats on the house subcommittee checking federal regulatory agencies said it is up to Eisenhower to decide whether to discharge Adams, his top aide, because of Adams' dealings with wealthy Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine.

Adams yesterday acknowledged being a hotel guest of Goldfine, whom he described as an old friend. Adams also said he contacted federal agencies on cases involving Goldfine, but he denied bringing any pressure on Goldfine's behalf. He called such charges "unwarranted and unfair."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower agrees Adams' relations with Goldfine were not improper and that the president feels Adams' usefulness has not been jeopardized. This indicated that, as of now, Adams is not in any danger of losing his job.

Rep. Morgan Moulder (D-Mo.) said there was evidence of Goldfine having picked up a $1,300 tab after a 3-day stay by Adams at Plymouth, Mass.

Adams said yesterday the subcommittee could have disclosed that he and his wife were guests of Goldfine at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth last year. He named no figure. Earlier the subcommittee developed evidence of $2,000 worth of Boston hotel bills that Goldfine paid for Adams in the past four years.

Adams' statement, in a letter to subcommittee chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.), was put out by the White House after subcommittee investigators reported allegations that Adams got the Securities and Exchange commission (SEC) and Federal Trade commission (FTC) to soften action against Goldfine.

"I categorically deny such insinuations," Adams said. Adams is a former Republican governor of New Hampshire where Goldfine has business interests. Saying he had been friends with Goldfine for years, Adams acknowledged being Goldfine's hotel guest. But he said he had thought Goldfine kept the hotel rooms permanently, rather than specially footing the bill for Adams.

Got Information
Eisenhower's chief aide said he asked FTC Chairman Edward F. Howrey in 1953 for some information at Goldfine's request, and in 1955 set up an appointment with Howrey for Goldfine. Adams said he had the president's special counsel get some information from the SEC about a case against a Goldfine firm in 1956. He said this was not done at Goldfine's request and that he did nothing further about the case.

These were his only communications with federal agencies concerning Goldfine. Adams said in denying seeking favored treatment for his friend.

Harris said that, regardless of the Adams letter, he will go ahead with subcommittee plans to develop its case starting Monday with testimony from the SEC and FTC. The inquiry at this stage deals mainly with Goldfine companies.

Harris said "I'm not passing any judgment. The facts that are presented—let them speak for themselves." He said he was not surprised by Adams' statement, but that it was up to Eisenhower to decide whether to keep Adams.

Mack said in a separate interview: "If I were President Eisenhower, I'd ask for his (Adams') resignation, not tomorrow, but right at this hour. I think it's the president's responsibility to get rid of the man."

Democrats to Outline Plan For Elections

State Convention At La Crosse Opens This Afternoon

BY ARTHUR BYSTROM
La Crosse — Wisconsin Democrats, spurred by their victory in the race for the U. S. senate last fall, gathered here today to outline a program they hope can win in elections this fall.

The annual convention of the Democratic Party of Wisconsin gets underway this afternoon with meetings of the platform and resolutions committees. The first general session is scheduled for early evening with Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) as the principal speaker.

Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) will be one of the main speakers Saturday. Other speakers Saturday include the three Democratic congressmen, Henry Reuss and Clement Zablocki of Milwaukee and Lester Johnson of Black River Falls.

Sen. Joseph Clark (D-Penn.) will speak at the Saturday evening session.

No Endorsements
The Democrats do not endorse candidates as do the Republicans, but they make quite an issue on the platform they adopt. The platform will be adopted Sunday.

The Democrats are not lacking candidates for most of the top state offices but Sen. Proxmire in his bid for reelection for the full 6-year senate term is not expected to have any opposition from within his own party.

State Sen. Gaylord Nelson of Madison also is expected to go into the Democratic primary for governor without opposition. He also will be a convention speaker.

Hurless Quits, Applies for Retirement

Claims He Handled Expense Accounts Like All Officials

Milwaukee — Virgil Hurless, who resigned Thursday as Milwaukee comptroller in the climax to months of wrangling over his handling of expense accounts, says that "the method I used was used by all other public officials."

Hurless made his comments in a 3-page statement after handing his resignation to Mayor Frank Zeidler and announcing he was applying for the pension due after his 31 years of city service.

Meanwhile, Dist. Atty. William J. McCauley said he intended to continue his investigation. And the common council decided that a suit to recover $12,584 of Hurless' travel expenses should be pressed.

'Like Everyone Else'
Hurless said that during the 18 months of inquiry into his travels, there was "no suggestion or implication of dishonesty on my part," and added: "I repeat that I handled my affairs as to travel expenses like everyone else. Apparently someone must take the blame for the system, and I honestly and from conviction believe, in this case, I am the proverbial scapegoat."

Zeidler, in comment, said that "this assault on other officials is completely unwarranted. . . much of it is absolutely untrue."

Over $4,000 Pension
Meanwhile, the city pension board said Hurless' application probably would be approved in routine fashion. He would receive a pension of somewhat more than $4,000 a year. His salary as comptroller was $14,000.

In his letter to the mayor, the 56-year-old Hurless said that an "orderly transition" of city affairs to deputy comptroller John Kalupa would take 10 or 12 days, after which he would take three weeks' vacation and make his resignation effective July 17.

Boy's Fall Leads Byrnes To Probe Safety Rules

Wisconsin Youth in Serious Condition After Plunge From Window on Washington Visit

Washington — A Wisconsin high school boy's fall from a hotel room window led Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.) today to urge a congressional investigation of all laws dealing with the health and safety of visitors to the nation's capital.

Phillip Johnson of Florence, Wis., visiting Washington with members of his high school graduating class, fell from his fourth story hotel room May 21. He suffered two broken arms, two broken legs, a broken pelvis and hip. He still is in serious condition.

Byrnes said a check of the accident showed young Johnson was lodged in a small room with three other boys and shared a bed with another youth, close to an unscreened window from which he fell during his sleep.

Violated Regulation
"The unscreened window was in violation of an existing district regulation," Byrnes said in a letter to Rep. John L. McMillan (D-SC), chairman of the House District of Columbia committee.

"My concern is that future accidents of this and similar nature be prevented. One of our essential duties, it seems to me, is to insure, through every possible legal means, that the health and safety of visitors to Washington be protected."

Byrnes asked that McMillan's committee immediately undertake an investigation of the adequacy and enforcement of all laws which would govern the health and safety of visitors to the nation's capital.

School Groups
Particular emphasis should be given, Byrnes said, to problems incident to the housing and feeding of large groups of school children.

"We should either determine if our present laws are adequate and are being properly enforced, or we should take steps to correct any deficiencies that may exist," Byrnes said.

Byrnes said encouragement Done adroitly, this may fool is given to persons to visit the bad luck devils into believing no friendship exists, whereupon they race madly down the street in search of other victims.

Two Senators Predict Approval of Defense Reorganization Plan

Passed in House Vote; Bridges Sees Compromise With President

Washington — Two influential leaders predicted today that the senate will approve a defense reorganization plan in about the form it passed the house yesterday by a 402-1 vote.

"I think we'll give President Eisenhower all the powers that a president should have to act as our commander in chief," Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) said in an interview. He is chairman of the senate armed services committee.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), senior GOP member of the armed services committee, agreed in a separate interview, saying: "We will not accomplish everything the president wants but I think we can reach a common ground that will be acceptable."

As passed by the house, the bill would give the secretary of defense greater authority over unified combat commands. It also would strengthen the joint chiefs of staff and centralize weapons research and development under a single director.

While saying the bill generally is acceptable to him, Eisenhower urged changes in three sections that he said would hamper streamlining operations or permit "legalized insubordination."

By house Democrats, joined by a few Republicans, dealt Eisenhower a stinging defeat yesterday in rejecting four moves to bring the reorganization bill closer in line with the president's wishes.

Amid politically charged debate, the house rejected three separate amendments before defeating 211-192 a last-ditch motion to send the bill back to the armed services committee with instructions to write in all the Eisenhower-backed provisions.

(Wisconsin representatives voting to send the bill back were Tewes, Withrow, Reuss, Van Pelt, Laird and Byrnes. Against were Zablocki, Johnson and O'Konski.)

After failure of all administration-backed amendments, the Republicans swung over to vote for the bill. The only hold-out was Rep. Cliff Clevenger (R-Ohio), who voted "no."

The battle now shifts to the senate where Russell said there may be substantial support for "the entire program of the president."

Russell said the senate armed services committee will begin hearings next week on the house bill and the president's request.

Summer Shaving Isn't Shock — Family Gets Wrong Dog From Vet

Kansas City — A Kansas City family took their nine-year-old cocker spaniel, Tar Baby, to the veterinarian for a summer haircut.

When the head of the house brought the shaved black dog home, she didn't act right at all. She failed to greet the two cats and she wasn't interested in her favorite bed on the drapes.

The family decided the shock of the shaving had been too much for her.

But when the veterinarian called a couple of hours later, they found another reason. They had the wrong dog.

13-Year-Old Kills Father

Son Shoots, Says Dad Beat Him, Lit Matches Under His Fingers

Pittsburgh — A suburban Bethel borough man was shot to death early today by his 13-year-old son who told police the father had beat him and lit matches under his fingers.

John, Jr.

John Kohle, Sr., 40, a crane operator in a Pittsburgh plant, was killed by four bullets fired into his back from a .32 caliber revolver.

Bethel Police Chief John Miskunas quoted John Kohle, Jr., as saying he shot his father following an argument over some missing shotgun shells.

Kohle said his father started the argument last night when the boy returned home late from his paper route. The father went out, but continued the argument in the boy's bedroom on his return at 10:30.

"The boy said his mother made the father stop beating him," the chief said, "but he told me that his father came back to his room a short time later and held lit matches under his fingers, trying to make him confess to stealing the shotgun shells."

Miskunas said the boy then reached under his pillow for the gun and fired.

"It was his gun," the boy told Miskunas, "but I kept in my room because I was afraid of my father."

Lovesick Airman Sought; Threatened Suicide Crash

Alexandria, La. — A lovesick airman who threatened a suicide crash in his rented plane was sought in northern Louisiana and northeastern Texas today.

Donald Keeton, 19, of Dallas, Texas, who was stationed at Keesler air Force base, Biloxi,

Keeton Miss Bowling

Miss. flew about 250 miles yesterday before pursuers lost track of him in northern Louisiana near Monroe. He was flying a 2-seater Cessna 120, painted yellow with black trimmings, which he had rented at Gulfport, Miss., about 20 miles from Biloxi. Keeton had less than two hours fuel when he left this central Louisiana city.

When he disappeared he had covered about half the distance from Gulfport toward Dallas. He had been underway about four hours.

In Dallas 17-year-old Lynn Bowling sobbed "He's the most wonderful person in the world. I wanted to get married, but called it off because I thought I was too young."

The airman's mother, Mrs. Annabelle Keeton, said in Dallas her son had lost weight "because of worry over a love affair."

Left Note
At Keesler his barracks mates found a note that he wanted to die in the air because "that is the way to go."

Keesler authorities asked Gulfport airport manager W. H. Chevis to stop Keeton, and, said Chevis, "I waved my arms like mad, but he just ignored me and taxied by me."

Here, at Esler field, officers almost closed in on the youth, but he bolted out of a telephone booth, ran to the plane and took off. A helicopter, a jet and a B-25 failed to bring him to earth. Ground searching parties in Bienville and Red River counties, 30-50 miles southeast of Shreveport, failed to find any trace of a landed or crashed plane.

Coroner Rules Driver Didn't Have Control

New London Youth Hit Car, Spun It Into Path of Third Auto

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps has ruled the driver of one car involved in a fatal 3-car crash did not have his vehicle under control but no gross negligence was involved.

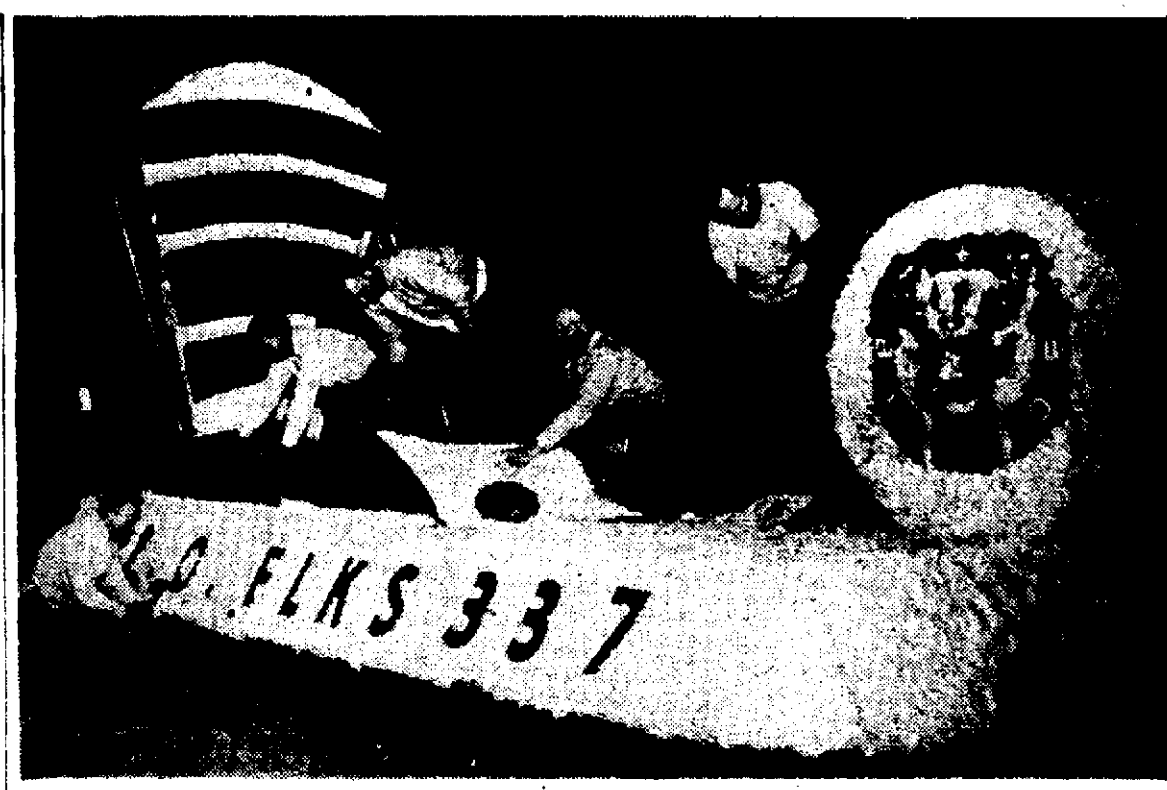

Emory A. Lehman, Jr., 16, 412 Douglas street, New London, struck the rear of a car driven by Myron E. Leitzke, 47, route 1, Hortonville, on Highway 47 near Leitzke's home April 29, spinning Leitzke's car into the path of an oncoming car. Leitzke died instantly.

Dist. Atty. George Greisch assisted Kemps in the investigation and inquest.

Lehman, during the inquest Thursday, said he saw the Leitzke car coming out of the farm home driveway, but it did not stop. Lehman said he saw the car about two blocks away as he drove "about 55 or 60, maybe faster."

Car Didn't Stop

August Schmidt, 74, Embarrass, driver of the car which smashed into the side of the Leitzke car, testified that Leitzke did not stop when he drove from his driveway onto Highway 47. Schmidt said he was driving 45 to 50 miles an hour, saw the Lehman car come over the hill and saw the Leitzke car directly in front of him.

The Rev. Edgar Barg, 30, Embarrass, who was a passenger in Schmidt's car, said he first noticed Leitzke's car when he saw the dust of the collision between the Lehman car and Leitzke.

Clement Jones, 28, 907 Beacon avenue, New London, driver of a car just ahead of Schmidt's, said the collision occurred just as he passed the Lehman and Leitzke cars. Jones said he speeded up to avoid being involved in the crash and saw the Leitzke car spin into his lane of traffic directly behind his car. Jones commented that Schmidt didn't have a chance to avoid the crash.

Jones said he pulled into Leitzke's driveway and called police and an ambulance.

County Police Sgt. George Elise testified that Lehman's car skidded 136 feet into Leitzke's, then spun into the ditch, 82 feet past the impact. Leitzke's car was thrown 20 feet by the impact with Schmidt's car. Schmidt skidded 66 feet before hitting Leitzke, Elise said.

Despite a slight hill, Leitzke and Lehman had a clear view of each other, Elise said. He added that the Leitzke driveway could be seen for 0.3 of a mile from the west, the direction from which Lehman approached.

William Noack, 16, 1106 Algoma street, New London, a passenger in Lehman's car testified that Leitzke slowed as he approached the highway but did not stop. He added that Lehman was driving about 50 to 55 miles an hour.

Four persons were hospitalized after the accident. All were riding in Schmidt's car. They were Schmidt, the Rev. Mr. Berg and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Fischer, Antigo. Lehman was bruised, Noack was uninjured.

Leitzke was the fourth Outagamie county traffic fatality this year.

Wage Payments Take First Upswing Since Recession Started

Washington — The first upswing in wage payments since the recession began last August is reported by the commerce department.

The department said Wednesday that the nation's personal income rate increased by $1,200,000,000 on a yearly basis during May.

This boosted the total annual rate to $344,300,000,000—off $3 billion from the peak rate of last August.

Part of the gain was attributed to an increase in federal and state payments, such as unemployment compensation, social security benefits and relief grants. They rose by $400 million.

At the same time, wages and salaries which had been slipping continuously since last summer rose by $700 million on an annual basis after allowance for the season pickup in outdoor work.

Reformatory Population Reaches All-Time High

De Pere — The inmate population at the Wisconsin State Reformatory reached an all-time high of 840 Tuesday.

Donald Clusen, administrative assistant to Supt. M. A. Scaff, said the old record of 837 was set in mid-March but the population dropped to 799 in April before starting on the upgrade. Normally it shows a decline at this time of the year.

Some inmates are sleeping in the corridors because of the shortage of cell space.

The population figure includes inmates assigned to the Ononda honor farm and the McNaughton forestry camp.

Democrats May Pick Negro for Committee

Lawyer-Housewife-Council Member
Would be First of Race in Position

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — Democratic delegates to the state party convention at LaCrosse this weekend are pondering a contest for a party outcome which may put their deliberations in the national limelight.

There is a good chance, according to party insiders, that the state minority party organization may pick a Negro for one of its two places on the Democratic national committee, as the first member of the race ever to have this membership.

A young Milwaukee woman, lawyer, housewife and public official is the personality who has suddenly added the fillip of interest to the convention which would otherwise be devoted to a round of partisan oratory and drafting a platform expected to follow the model of other campaign years.

On Milwaukee Council Mrs. Vel Phillips started her political career two years ago when she surprised Milwaukee politicians by making a successful bid for the Milwaukee city council.

In the contest for national committeewoman of the party she is running against Mrs. Marguerite Benson, one of the party organization stalwarts, for the post vacated recently with the resignation under pressure of Mrs. Betty Graichen.

On the basis of state-wide acquaintance, previous party service and experience in politics, Mrs. Benson will rate as the favorite to win the LaCrosse contest.

But some prominent Democratic leaders, not wishing to appear to take sides in the competition, have said privately that they believe Mrs. Phillips will win.

Benson Record Mrs. Benson has been woman's vice chairman of the state party machine and Milwaukee county chairman and two years ago lost the party office to

Third Youth Dies Of Injuries in Shawano Crash

Milwaukee — (U) — The Memorial day weekend traffic toll mounted and the year's toll for the state was raised by the death of three persons.

James Diederich, 16, Green Bay, became the third fatality in the Memorial day collision at a Shawano county intersection in which 14 teenagers were involved. Joseph LaCount, 19, Oneida, was killed outright and Janice Luedke, 13, Green Bay, died later of injuries. The traffic toll in the state over the weekend is now 14.

The death of two Milwaukee men raised the state's traffic toll to 294, compared with 319 on this date last year.

Ted Marston, 55, of Milwaukee, was killed early today when the car in which he was a passenger collided with another on highways 11 and 15 one mile west of Elkhorn.

Sidney Rice, 36, Milwaukee was injured fatally Thursday night in a 2-car crash on Highway 30, four miles north of Waukesha. He was pronounced dead at a hospital. A passenger in Rice's car and three persons in the other auto were injured.

Alliance Bible School Names Year's Theme

Theme for the Vacation Bible school at Christian and Missionary Alliance church this year will be "Exploring God's Wonders in This Geophysical Year." Sessions for nursery through intermediate age children will extend from Monday through June 27.

Teachers and assistants will work under Mrs. Roy Stenland, director and Mrs. W. C. Miller, general assistant. All classes will be conducted from 9 o'clock to 11:30 each morning. Transportation will be furnished to those needing it.

Man Injured in 2-Car Collision Thursday

James P. Downing, 42, Watertown, received minor injuries Thursday evening when his car collided with one driven by William J. Parker, 16, 1208 N. Richmond street, at N. Appleton and Hancock streets. Police said Downing was southbound on N. Appleton, Parker westbound on W. Hancock.

Downing was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital by Larry's ambulance. He received injuries to his knee, head and ribs.

Falls Down Stairs

Kathy Sopkovich, 17, E. Forest avenue, Neenah was slightly hurt Thursday evening at the Viking theater when she fell down a flight of carpeted stairs.

Miss Sopkovich told police she felt faint shortly before falling. She reported injuries to her head and foot.

Mrs. Graichen. Two years ago Mrs. Benson also volunteered to run for secretary of state, when the party managers found that spot on their state ticket difficult to fill.

Mrs. Phillips, meanwhile, has been building a reputation as one of the hardest working of the younger politicians in the Democratic organization of Milwaukee, where the party in recent years has increased its ballot margins to move it into challenging position state-wide against the incumbent Republicans.

No Decision Reached on Plan, School

Decisions on the proposed Richmond school addition and money for the proposed Fox Valley regional master plan were put off Thursday night by the city council's finance committee.

The Richmond school matter will be taken up after a conference with school board members. Earl W. Harder, board president, said in a letter to the committee the board wants permission to hire an architect. The board wants to build a 4-room addition for about $75,000.

The regional plan matter will be decided after a conference June 19 between the planner and officials of participating municipalities. The city has been asked to furnish $17,062.10 for the plan and regional planning offices each year for three years.

$100 to Fair Committeemen voted to give the Outagamie County Fair association $100 rather than buy grandstand tickets at half price for all city employees. They said ticket distribution would be too difficult. Besides, there is only $100 in the budget for the fair association.

The claim of Mrs. Joseph Stadler in behalf of her daughter, Marlene, who received injuries in a fall on the sidewalk at 729 W. College avenue on May 28, was denied.

The city band was ordered to play one of its regular concerts June 22 at the South Side Athletic club's picnic at Telulah park.

Cornerstone of 1895 Church Opened During Construction

Forest Junction — The curiosity of historically minded members of the congregation was to some extent satisfied with the opening of the 1895 cornerstone of Zion Evangelical United Brethren church this week in connection with a building project.

The metal box of mementos which had been placed Sunday afternoon, May 26, 1895, had rusted through, admitting moisture, rendering part of the contents brittle including a handwritten historical sketch in German script by the Rev. C. W. Wellso, who was then pastor.

In addition to church publications, a Bible, a hymnal, a discipline and conference journal of 1894, there were copies of a German weekly, "Nordwestliche Post" and an English weekly, "The Weekly Sentinel" and Wisconsin Farm Jour-

The dental report program does not apply to Appleton school children.

Activity Picks Up In Children's Room

Summer Reading Program Finds Jumps In Library Circulation, Registrations

The busy season has begun for the children's room of the Appleton public library.

With the closing of schools, the beginning of the summer reading program and the resuming of weekly story hours for children, circulation and registrations have shown a significant increase, according to Miss Janet Meili, children's librarian.

The first week of registrations for the Bookworm club, this year's reading program, found 353 young people through eighth grade age signing up. The number is about twice as many as last year, Miss Meili said, and noted registrations will continue through next week.

Under the program, each child must read two books before the registration is accepted. For each additional two books read, the member receives a segment to paste on his picture of a bookworm cartoon.

Despite Good Heredity, Some Babies are Born With Faults

JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have two healthy children but recently lost my 7-day-old baby. She heart and does heredity cause this to happen? Could I or should I have more children?—Mrs. E. F.

A few babies, have anomalies, or irregularities. They may have extra fingers or toes; they may in some instances be born without arms or legs, or some part of the heart may never develop. Some babies are born with the intestine closed off at some point—this used to mean death in a matter of a couple of days, although today surgeons operate when the babies are only a day or so old, and change them into perfectly healthy tots.

But these things aren't the result of heredity. Indeed, I can cite cases of twins, one having such irregularities while the other twin is completely normal. No, these accidents in development happen because of some tiny variation in the marvelous chemistry that controls the formation and growth of a baby.

True, parents pass on to their children certain traits—color of eyes, color of hair, shape of face and body, height, skin texture and so on. Feeble-minded parents tend strongly to have children of the same type, although we should remember that occasionally perfectly normal parents may have a feeble-minded child, just as normal parents may and do occasionally have children who are geniuses!

Beyond Our Ken The point is that despite good heredity, from time to time a baby is born with some unexpected fault. The reasons for this often remain beyond our ken. It is not given to man to understand all.

Now here's another thing to remember. The genes, or tiny, chemical particles which control the baby's pattern of development, are not affected by accidents to us. Suppose you lost an arm in an accident.

Would your babies be born with one arm? Of course not!

Since you've had two healthy babies, you have excellent evidence that you and your husband are passing on healthy traits to your children in general. The accident that happened with that one baby is just that—an accident.

Should there be some reason to expect that the baby is not going to develop properly, your physician would in all likelihood be able to find some warning sign. But lacking evidence of some such aspect, you have no cause to fear that another child will have a flaw like the little one who died. Rather, remember the better evidence of the two who are growing up strong and well.

Usually Late Sign

"Dear Dr. Molner: A young woman at work was telling me that before her mother died of leukemia, she used to get black and blue marks on her body. I was wondering if she had gone to the doctor when those bruises started to appear, could her leukemia have been arrested? Do black and blue marks mean the first signs of leukemia?—Mrs. N.G."

These bruise-like marks are not an early sign, but one of the subsequent ones as a rule. In acute cases, the best that can be done is a modest extension of life. In chronic cases, patients get along quite well for years and years. By drawing a few conclusions from your letter, probably very little could have been done for the woman you mention.

Tonsil Tissue "Dear Dr. Molner: Is it all ways the practice to remove the tonsils when only the adenoids are bad?—Mrs. S.B."

No, not always. The adenoids, in fact, are a form of tonsil tissue—we have a half a dozen areas of "tonsil tissue" in the body. However, it is not unusual, nor is it illogical, to remove tonsils when adenoids are moved, provided there is indication that the tonsils are causing trouble, or are obviously infected and inflamed. ## Flandin, Former French Premier, Minister, Dies

St. Jean Cap Ferrat, France
— Pierre-etienne Flandin,

69, premier of France for eight months in 1934-35 and a minister in the Vichy cabinet, died at his residence today after a long illness.

A World War I flier turned toward pacifism, Flandin was convicted by a French court after World War II of collaboration with the Nazis but was pardoned for heroism during the occupation. He claimed that he had been cooperating secretly with the British and Americans.

Despite the pardon, he was barred from holding public office.

The national assembly rescinded the ban in 1950 after he again became president of the center democratic alliance party. But the party had lost almost all of its prewar strength and Flandin did not run again for the assembly.

The son of a senator, Flandin was first elected to the national assembly when he was 25. He served in numerous prewar cabinets in addition to his tenure as premier.

Republicans Share Theme

Thomson, Steinle Criticize Democrats, Proxmire's Record

By The Associated Press
Gov. Vernon Thomson and U. S. senate aspirant Roland Steinle, both Republicans, shared a platform and a theme Thursday night as they criticized the Democratic party and one of its candidates.

Speaking at a GOP meeting at Darlington, Thomson asserted "it is a little pathetic that Democratic legislators were forced to make a spectacle of themselves by seeking personal publicity during the special session of the legislature."

He repeated that Democratic candidates were "without a single valid issue" and said, "Republicans can go to the people of the state with an outstanding record of achievement. All the Democrats have to offer is empty oratory."

Talks About Proxmire
Steinle directed his remarks to the record of Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.), whose post the former state supreme court justice seeks. Steinle said:

"The people of Wisconsin see him as senate foe number one of the American taxpayer. His proposals to recent date would deplete the treasury by more than $23 billion. In 10 months he has become recognized as the greatest spender in the history of the senate."

"His promises of special benefit and privileges to all groups are myriad. Many are incongruous. His craving for publicity seems never to be satisfied. Every day it spirals to new heights at public expense."

New Rules Called Satisfactory in State Bar Report

Delavan — A report adopted at the annual meeting of the State Bar of Wisconsin Thursday declared new rules and by-laws adapted by the bar have proved satisfactory, service to lawyers has increased and financial problems are under control.

The report, on integration of the bar, adopted by about 200 attorneys at the opening of the group's annual meeting, will be submitted to the state supreme court.

R. E. Anderson of Superior, the retiring president of the organization, said that $110,000 has been collected toward the eventual $150,000 price tag for the bar center building at Madison.

The Women's Auxiliary State bar, holding its annual meeting at the same time, took up a proposal for changing its name to the Lawyers' Wives of Wisconsin to avoid confusion.

Man Takes 4,500 Volts, Gets Just Minor Burns

Detroit — Ernest Dees, 40, of Detroit, took a 4,500 volt jolt yesterday and lived.

Dees, a construction worker, was guiding a steel beam into position when the beam touched a power line. Dees suffered only minor hand and foot burns.

from month to month what the program will be," he said.

The U. S. delegation arrived in the Soviet Union May 23. It traveled 6,700 miles, visiting plants at such cities as Magnitogorsk, Sverdlovsk, Stalinsk, Kuznetsk and Leningrad. The Soviet steel experts answered all questions and asked many of their own. Ryerson said.

Twelve of the visitors planned to leave the Soviet Union today. The rest, all mining experts, will remain another week.

A Soviet steel delegation is expected to visit the United States in September.

U. S. Delegates Impressed by Soviet Steel

Some Operations Superior to Ours, Company Head Says

Moscow — An American steel industry leader said today a U. S. delegation that toured the Soviet Union was greatly impressed by the resources, techniques and output of the country's steel production.

Edward L. Ryerson, former president of Inland Steel company, Chicago, said the Russians have some steel operations superior to anything known in the United States.

"We did not quite appreciate how much they've done in a relatively short time in the development of steel," Ryerson commented. He added that the 19-member group was impressed by a tremendous increase in Soviet steel production in the last 20 years.

The Russians have great resources, he said, including low-grade ore.

One principal conclusion of the visitors is that the United States should substantially increase steel industry research, Ryerson said.

"We must not be satisfied to continue our present operations just because we produced lots of steel with these methods," he added.

Know Quotas
He noted that one Russian advantage is that the Soviet plants know long in advance how much to produce, since quotas are set by a central authority.

"American plants are dependent upon individual customers or orders and the result is that they don't know

Major Contract Clears Way for Beginning of Work on State Air Bases

Washington — The way was cleared Thursday for work to begin on the multi-million dollar Richard I. Bong Air Force base near Kansasville in Racine and Kenosha counties in Wisconsin.

The army corps of engineers awarded a major paving and excavating contract to S. J. Grove and Sons of Minneapolis. The firm's low bid was $13,606,998, and covers runways and taxiways.

The work will begin about July 1 and will be completed in about 3½ years. The project will provide jobs for about 200 persons, it was estimated by Mrs. Eleanor Smith, widow of the late Rep. Lawrence Smith (R-Racine), and Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis.).

Boy, 17, Pleads Guilty of Murder in Mother's Death

New York — A 17-year-old boy pleaded guilty Thursday to second degree murder in the shooting of his mother.

By entering the plea, John E. Jessup of Brooklyn, escaped the possibility of the electric chair.

No date was set for the sentencing: 20 years to life in prison.

Jessup argued with his mother, Gladys, 38, over his using the telephone to call a girl friend last Sept. 27. Later, he shot his mother in the back of the head as she passed along a hallway outside the bedroom where he and a chum were examining his collection of hunting rifles.

Psychiatrist Who Was Mental Case Turns Salesman

New York — The psychiatrist who was formerly a mental patient bobbed up around town Thursday, ordering a foreign car with no money in his pocket and announcing plans to become a shoe salesman.

Dr. Joseph Uttal, 56, who used the name

George Wolf to conceal his past and get a city job examining unbalanced jail inmates, shaved off his mustache and took a room in a west 45th street hotel.

Located there, he laughed at reports he had disappeared from his Yonkers home and said publicity about his double names and mental record had ruined his chances of getting psychiatric jobs. He said, therefore, he had decided to give up his profession and become a shoe salesman.

"I can sell Palm Beach suits to Eskimos," he asserted. "So I'll make $20,000 a year as a salesman instead of $10,000 as a doctor."

He spent a half-hour in an upper Broadway showroom, weighing the merits of various cars before settling on a Czech-built $1,686 Skoda. He signed the car order and impressed it also with a pocket seal giving his name, address and telephone number.

Asked for a deposit, he replied, "My lawyer has all my money," and left.

College Student New President of Wisconsin FFA

Green Lake — Roger Christy, 19, a student at River Falls State college, is the new president of the Wisconsin Future Farmers of America. It was announced Thursday. The election was part of the WFFA's 29th annual convention.

In addition to his college work, Christy helps on a 209-acre farm operated by his father, Charles, in rural Eau Claire.

Chrysler and the other companies have tightened up. At Chrysler, a union steward now has to report to his regular job for the first hour of his work day. He also has to work it the first hour after lunch and the last hour of the day.

Minor Officials Vital Factor in Contract Fight

Shop Stewards Working Under Unusual Conditions

Detroit — An army of 20,000 minor union officials has become a vital factor in the United Auto Workers' fight to win new contract demands from the automotive big three.

They are the union shop stewards and plant committeemen now working under unusual conditions to handle the problems of nearly half a million General Motors, Chrysler and Ford UAW workers during their current no-contract period.

The stewards and committeemen figured prominently in the UAW strategy when the union's contracts with the big three ran out about two weeks ago. Since then, for the first time in over 17 years, the auto plants have been operating without a contract.

GM, Chrysler, Ford and the union all said when the contracts expired that they would do their best to keep the plants operating normally while negotiations tried, as they did again yesterday, to agree on a new pact.

It's nearly impossible to find anyone who sees chance of agreement before August. The UAW yesterday set in motion the machinery to take strike votes among GM, Ford and Chrysler workers but emphasized there was no plan for an immediate strike.

New Problems
The auto companies' no-contract operations brought up new problems daily for workers and management alike.

Typical of the union stewards is Laymon Good of UAW Local 7, which represents 4,000 UAW workers at the Kercheval-Jefferson plant where Chrysler manufactures its Chrysler line of cars.

Under the recently expired contract, Good devoted practically all his work time to handling complaints and grievances.

Chrysler, like the other auto companies, pays the stewards and committeemen the rates they would get if working on their regular jobs in the auto plants.

In the no-contract period,

Fascist Revival?

No sooner had Gen. de Gaulle taken power in France than the people who had played the biggest part in making him premier — the insurrectionists in Algeria — turned on him. Gen. Raoul Salan, whom de Gaulle had named commander-in-chief in the rebellion-torn colony, signed a statement in which the Committee of Public Safety refused to get out of politics as de Gaulle had ordered, and instead demanded that de Gaulle abolish all political parties in France. Salan has since backed down but obviously de Gaulle does not yet have full control of Algeria.

In the days of crisis before de Gaulle was called to Paris the world wondered whether he would become a dictator who would abolish France's liberties, or simply a stern leader who would insist on constitutional reforms to place those liberties on a more firm foundation. The confusion was caused by the fact that de Gaulle — although a conservative and an aristocrat — is known to be a champion of the people's constitutional rights, yet many of those backing him obviously wanted a dictator.

Now these people — at least those running the show in Algeria — have shown their hand. Obviously they want a Hitler, a Mussolini, a Franco for France. They are impatient with the inefficiencies and delays of democracy, with legislatures, parties, free discussion and debate; they want instead a strong man who will run the country and sweep aside all such foolishness. In other words, they are fascists.

If de Gaulle gives in to these people and becomes a dictator, or worse yet if they should overthrow him and install one of their own in his place, it would be a tragedy not only for France but for the entire free world. It could mark the beginning of a resurgence of Fascism in Europe, which could only tear apart the fabric of free world resistance of the Soviet empire, so carefully and painfully put together in the years since World War II. And if it got out of hand it could, in time, become as major a threat to freedom as communism is today, and as Hitlerism was in its day.

The free nations of the world made a terrible sacrifice in blood and treasure to erase the right-wing autocracies of Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo, and have made a substantial sacrifice since then to resist the left-wing autocracy of Moscow. What a tragedy it would be if he were to permit the one enemy, long since thought dead, to rise again while we are still locked in a death struggle with the other!

France's experience, however, provides a stark lesson for free peoples and those who would be free. It is that anti-democratic forces of both the right and the left stand always ready to exploit the weakness that attacks a nation's fabric when enough of its people and their leaders care more for their parties, their factions, their own pet ideas and projects than they do for the ideals of democracy itself. To put it another way, democracy works only when there is a deep patriotism in the hearts of the people; when their first loyalty is to the constitution and the laws and institutions that guarantee their freedom, rather than to their own selfish ambitions.

An Opportunity to Write a Needed Law

The Wisconsin Employment Relations Board has been forced to dismiss the applications of eight Wisconsin employers seeking help in labor disputes because the cases all fall into what is known as the "no man's land" of labor relations.

This is an area where no authority controls either labor or employers. It was established by a U. S. Supreme Court decision and National Labor Relations Board ruling. The court said the NLRB had exclusive jurisdiction over employers whose business affects interstate commerce. But the NLRB adopted a rule under which it will handle disputes only when the dollar value of the business involved exceeds $500,000 annually.

The cases which the Wisconsin board is willing to handle, but cannot because of the high court ruling, are chiefly requests for elections to determine bargaining agents. But such petitions could involve other matters. There is now no authority, in the no man's land cases, to decide who has the right to bargain, whether an employee has been discriminated against by his employer, or whether the employer has been imposed upon by illegal picketing or secondary boycotts.

In short, the rule of force is back in labor disputes for companies and their employees where the business is small and is in interstate commerce. The WERB estimates that 29 per cent of Wisconsin's employees and 92 per cent of its employers are in this category.

This is not a new problem. The difficulty has been known and discussed for some months. It is not a Wisconsin problem since the Supreme Court decision and the NLRB rule apply nationally. Yet nothing has been done to bring relief although Congress has been in session for most of the time since the problem was created. Most congressmen and senators want to get into the headlines with a story of a big tax cut, a refund, or a grant of federal money to a locality. Too few are interested in correcting an obvious legal error such as this labor rule.

Farm Income Is Bulwark in the Recession

The Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago notes that the present recession has had a very uneven impact throughout the Midwest. The Seventh district has some of the nation's most depressed areas — Detroit and Flint — and it also includes areas that have experienced only very limited dips in income and employment. The districts reporting fairly good levels of employment compared with last year are the Quad Cities (Davenport, Rock Island, Moline and East Moline), Des Moines, Dubuque, Waterloo, Green Bay, Madison and Racine. Milwaukee and Kalamazoo also were close to the honor roll.

Oddly enough in the Seventh district, as elsewhere, the areas of strength owe their good fortune to the improvement in farm income. The report says that the national net realized farm income is expected to be 5 to 10 per cent higher in 1958 than last year. The farmers in this area have been building up their time deposits to points 8 to 10 per cent above last year. At the same time they have been buying more than other groups of the population. Farm machinery and fertilizer have been moving out to the farms, and along with these items have gone consumer goods in greater volume than to consumers generally.

Insured unemployment in Michigan jumped from 90,000 in April 1957 to 305,000 a year later, a percentage increase of 240. In Iowa the change was from 11,000 to 17,000, or an increase of 55 per cent. Wisconsin likewise showed a moderate increase with the unemployed total moving from 25,000 to 55,000 for a 120 per cent gain. This is less than the national average of 128 per cent. The other states in the district, Illinois and Indiana, had unemployment rises of 160 and 153, respectively.

The bank's explanation of the strength in farm income is interesting although it does not indicate a permanent solution for the recession. The story is that the early months of the year saw a reduction in the supply of meat animals marketed, and consumers have shown a willingness to increase the proportion of their spending for food. The reduced supply in the face of the steady demand resulted in hog prices that are running 16 per cent higher than a year ago and cattle prices 33 per cent higher. Iowa farmers' cash receipts were up 13 per cent in the first two months of 1958, and Wisconsin farmers' was up 5 per cent.

Since the price increases were largely caused by the scarcity resulting when the farmers withheld both hogs and cattle from the market in the early months of the year to utilize some high moisture corn which could not be used for government loans, it is expected that the prices will drop when the livestock marketing increases. Even so, the income from the sale of meat animals is expected to show a significant gain for the year.

Have at Least One Family Meal

Various teen-age surveys have shown that a complaint of young people, as well as some welfare agencies, is that families no longer have the evening meal together. The security and sense of belonging that is supposed to come from this family ritual is lacking. But as any parent knows, this problem feature is easier to define than to solve.

During the school year there are team practices, piano lessons, scout meetings, swim team trials, band rehearsals, Brownie cookouts, class picnics, industrial visits and library trips, entirely aside from a neighborhood game of Red Light or a favorite TV program. Little League sessions, Cub scout rallies, birthday parties, forensic try-outs, scholarship exams and decorating for the prom also take their toll of supper hours.

It is difficult to depreciate these various activities of ambitious youngsters today when authorities on juvenile delinquency often give as a primary reason for going wrong the fact that some children don't keep busy. But the family dinner hour is the price that must be paid. Families who really want to gather together around the table once a day should get up early for a nice leisurely breakfast. Supper has become a gulp and run affair for some, with a plate kept hot in the oven for the tardy.

'We Like It So Well, We Want to Sail It for You'

Calls Proxmire Friend Of Public Economy

Editor, Post-Crescent:

You confess failure at trying to keep up with William Proxmire's ideas. Why don't you give it up? You would have to revise your prehensile type of thinking; harder yet, you would have to be fair to an opponent.

Sen. Proxmire's proposals favor the public economy, and you know it. If all he advocates in spending — for roads, health, housing, education, and the substitution of good bills for bad — added up to what Congressman Byrnes wildly said they do, that would still be far under the waste for nonproductive, nondurable, devastating war materials, against which you raise no voice, but gulp: necessity.

The Post-Crescent gave 400 words to Sen. Draheim's vacuous claim that American armed display has the situation in hand everywhere. You could better have used 60 words from a recent report by Clement Johnston, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce:

"The number of American jeeps, American uniforms, American faces, which one encounters on the streets of the principal cities of Asia seems disproportionately large to a native population that has an innate distrust or resentment of anything alien or non-national. . . . We may inevitably be made the scapegoat for failure or shortcomings in which we had little or no part."

"That is exactly what has happened in South Vietnam," echoes Bernard Fall, Howard university's professor of international relations, who has just returned from there. This contrasts with Draheim's easy reference to Indo-China, for one country, Count off 10 others on your fingers.

Cut this waste by but half, and every one of Proxmire's constructive aims can be realized, and without deficit.

Germany Largest Foreign Buyer of Florida Fruits

From St. Petersburg Independent

One of the great surprises of World War II's aftermath has been the fast and vigorous rebuilding of the free half of conquered Germany, which has outstripped France, Italy and England in the struggle for renewed economic stability. An angle to this progress of West Germany that has been little realized is that the new German prosperity favorably affects Florida.

According to the Florida Citrus Mutual, West Germany now is the largest customer among foreign nations for this state's citrus products, second largest for phosphates, and a heavy buyer of honey and cattle.

Says a Mutual spokesman: "Florida has an enormous stake in the welfare and continued prosperity of West Germany, as well as other free European countries."

It certainly is, to recoin an old phrase, a small world — but one with large interdependencies.

Bird Lover Asks Owners of Cats To Keep Them in

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Please print this in the Forum.

Cat owners should try to keep them inside during the night. Here in our neighborhood, the last two springs, cats at night have killed eight young robins in their nests. These cats sense when the young robins are about to leave their nest, for both times of which I speak they, the cats, seem to have timed their kill. The mother robin was likely killed too. It's a shame when the devotion of the mother bird in feeding and caring for her young comes to naught because cats are allowed to prowl at night.

Last night, all the work and care of a mother robin came to an end. Two of the young were on the ground dead, and the other two no doubt eaten, along with the mother, by a cat allowed to prowl at night. This probably happens all over the city each night. So, cat owners, please keep your cats in at night, now during the nesting time at least.

Campers Do Pay Their Own Way

Editor, Post-Crescent:

With reference to your article on campers paying their way in Wisconsin State Parks — we campers feel we do pay our way, at least in part, by paying 75c per day plus 40c per day for electricity if desired, whereas the picnickers really have a picnic by paying nothing. Still they have the use of the beaches, with lifeguard protection, fireplaces with am-

Rep. Byrnes' Abilities May be Recognized

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Madison — Grist from a political beat:

Friends of Rep. John W. Byrnes, the able and popular chairman of the Wisconsin Republican house delegation in Washington, are pleased at the increasing speculation among Washington correspondents that he is destined for a leading place soon in the Republican house leadership. Each time there is talk about the retirement of 74 year old Rep. Joseph Martin, the GOP house leader, the name of Byrnes among a handful of others crops up as likely to be affected by way of a boost up the leadership ladder.

Paul Hassett, the Menominee newspaper editor, has been offered a key place in the Republican campaign headquarters for the campaign season and is reportedly willing to talk it over. He got an apprenticeship in campaign publicity management in a brief experience during the special election for senator last year, and doubles at home as the GOP chieftain of Dunn county.

SOME ONE TALKED
Gov. Thomson has a well deserved reputation for being close-mouthed with reporters and with playing his cards close to the vest generally. But some of his associates do not. While Thomson was extremely careful last week about divulging his plans about a special session, somebody in his entourage was tipping off re-ple firewood etc. I think a check would reveal that picnic areas require more policing and clean-up than camping areas.

Some states, such as Indiana for one, charge admission to their state parks, not only for campers but for picnickers. Incidentally, their camping fee is 50c per day with 25c additional for electricity, a lower fee than Wisconsin's, no doubt made possible by the picnickers paying their own way.

Objector to Movie Sees Need for More Decency, Respect

Editor, Post-Crescent:

For what purpose did our forefathers come to and establish this country? If I remember correctly, it was to be free to worship God as they believed. Today it seems we want to be free from God — and now even common decency and respect.

Our world is crumbling? Is it any wonder when there are so many minds at work putting out things such as "And God Created Woman," and so few concerned enough to object? If we were more interested in preserving the "common ground" of decency and respect for our children to grow on, perhaps our world would crumble a little bit slower.

Circus Plans Several Acts

Valley Fair Will Sponsor Event During Next Week

A full-blown circus, complete with animal acts, aerial acts, acrobats and rides, will come to Valley Fair Shopping center Tuesday, June 17, through Sunday, June 22, under the auspices of the center's Merchants association.

Free performances will be given at 2:30, 4:30, 7:30 and 9:30 each afternoon and patrons will be able to watch the animals being fed and trained at 10 o'clock each morning. Charges will be made for the rides.

Amusements, Inc., based at Indianapolis, Ind., is booking the free show which features Mike, billed as one of the world's largest and most ferocious trained lions appearing with 10 African lions under the direction of Sport Matthews, a sway pole act also performed by Matthews; Jeannie, a baby elephant; Mario, a unicycle rider; clowns; fire eaters; sword swallowers; knife throwers and other acts.

Making his debut will be Little Caesar, an elephant which has been trained during the last three months.

Stakes will be anchored in the concrete at the shopping center in holes which will be refilled when the circus leaves.

Stewardesses Marry During Airline Strike

Los Angeles — While Western Air Lines was idle, its stewardesses weren't.

Forty of them got married during the 108-day strike that grounded the line. Now Western has to replace them. There's a company rule against married stewardesses.

The line resumed its service Tuesday with 20 per cent fewer stewardesses than before.

hours Saturday night. And wonder what his rock and roll fans are doing.

Preparing for the Lion Act, Trainer Sport Matthews asserts his authority with one of the African beasts. Amusements, Inc., Indianapolis, Ind., is bringing the free circus to Valley Fair Shopping center Tuesday through Sunday. The center's Merchants' association is sponsoring the entertainment.

Rock 'n' Roll Deejay Has to Play 4 Hours of Caruso

San Francisco — When disc jockey Jim Lange offered to play four solid hours of the recordings of any singer chosen by his listeners he didn't dream it would come to this.

Lange is a rock 'n' roll man, pure and simple.

Elvis Presley, naturally, won his first contest several weeks ago. Lange obliged with four hours of Presley over radio, found them last night — eight long playing re-recordings.

When he announced his second contest he expected pop singers Johnny Mathis or Pat Boone to win. When the votes were counted Mathis and Boone had 4,000 between them.

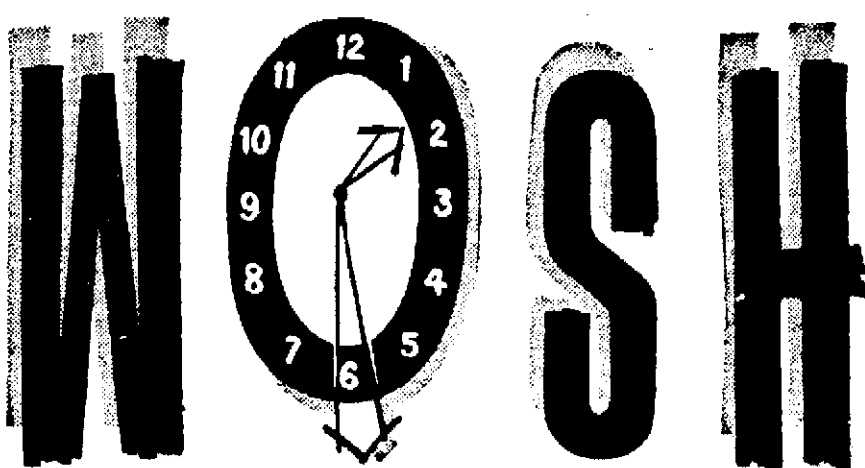

The winner? Enrico Caruso! Stanford university students organized and sponsored a landslide that sent in 20,000 votes for the late, great Italian tenor, who died in 1920.

They were emphatic. They wanted culture, good and pure — and not pure corn.

But where was Lange to find his first contest several weeks ago. Lange obliged with four hours of Presley over radio, found them last night — eight long playing re-recordings.

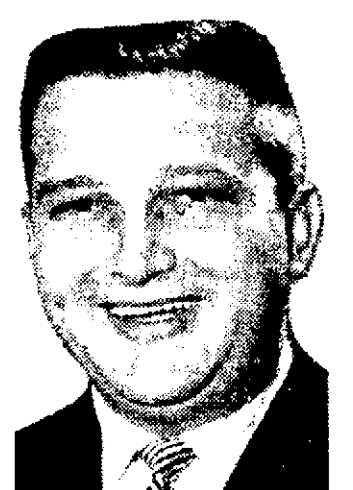

He will play them for four

Reds Open Festival Of Anti-American Films in Viet Nam

Hong Kong — A festival of anti-American films is opening Saturday in Hanoi, capital of communist North Viet Nam.

Hanoi radio, heard here, said more than 30 feature movies from Russia, Communist China, Hungary, East Germany and Japan are on the program. They include:

"Still, It's Good to be Alive," from Japan, described by the broadcast as a "dramatic denouncement of the crimes of the U.S. imperialists who dropped atom bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki and continue nuclear tests in the Pacific."

East German and North Koreans films showing opposition to American military bases in West Germany and South Korea.

A Russian picture "exposing acts of racial discrimination in the United States."

Free Fright Insurance Used to Sell Picture

BY JINGO
Fright insurance is being offered free by the Rio theater for the full run of "Macabre," a horror-shock thing which opens there Wednesday.

That is correct. You obtain the policies in the lobby now or when you enter to see the picture.

The agreement purportedly is insured by Lloyd's of London. You name your own beneficiary.

Jingo

any for $1,000 should you die of fright during the picture.

The fellow who dreamed up this bit of hokum was in town Thursday. He's Harold "Bud" Rose, publicity agent for the film's producer, William Castle.

Rose, lightly mustachioed, claims the fright insurance gimmick has the trade all agast. An upcoming horror film, he says, will claim it can't be insured it's so frightening. You get the idea from Rose that there is little the copycats won't stoop to.

Rose won't talk much about the picture's plot except to say a clock is in strong prominence as the principals have just so much time to settle their problem. Twelve mystery writers worked on the script.

Rose's Appleton stop is one of hundreds he will make on an 18-state tour. Quite a trip for a fellow Jesse Lasky took from Connecticut to Hollywood over 30 years ago.

Oh, yes. The picture stars William Prince, Jim Backus, Christine White, Jacqueline Scott and Susan Morrow. The co-hit, "Hell's 5 Hours," features Stephan McNally and Colleen Gray.

Jingo's Jewels: "Subscription TV, in my opinion, has great possibilities," says former President Harry Truman. "No one knows, of course, precisely how it would work out. But it can reasonably be expected to bring to millions of Americans high quality entertainment and cultural programs they never could hope to get in any other way. . . . We should not close the door on prospects for supplementing the existing system. . . . Things have come to a sad state in this country when we are so afraid of change that even experiments with a new method of distribution cannot be permitted."

"Baltimore, the Cradle of Baseball" and "The Joe DiMaggio Story" will be part of the pre-game "Sports Page" Saturday on NBC-TV and Sunday on CBS-TV. Lefty Grove will appear on the Saturday show before the White Sox-Oriole game. The Baltimore bit will include film clips of Babe Ruth, John McGraw and other Oriole greats of the past. The DiMaggio story, told by Jim McKay, will be telecast before the Yankee-Tiger game Sunday afternoon. . . . Ed Sullivan's June 29 show will feature the Molerrev company of dancers from the Metropolitan Opera House stage.

George Reeves, TV's superman, has been an actor for 26 years. His biggest break came with the lead opposite Claudette Colbert in "So Proudly We Hail," but then Uncle Sam claimed him. When he returned from WWII, he was just another in the small army of actors trying to rebuild careers. He had a contract with Paramount, but got lost in the company. He went to New York in the late 1940's and prospered in live TV. When Superman came along eight years ago, he succumbed because "I was hungry."

Fox Villages Nine Triumphs Over Shawano

10th Inning Blast
By Peerenboom Tips
Scales for 5-4 Win

Little Chute — Gene Peerenboom's 2-run single in the tenth inning gave Little Chute-Kimberly a 5 to 4 victory over Shawano in an exhibition game at the Indians' park Thursday night.

After Shawano tied the score in the seventh, the contest was deadlocked until the top of the tenth when Jim Kilsdonk walked with one out, Rog Vander Wyst singled and both runners advanced a base on Hank Peerenboom's sacrifice. Gene Peerenboom then split the outfield with a shot that scored the winning tallies.

Shawano bounced back with one run in their half of the tenth on two hits and an infield out but winning pitcher Bob Schmidt struck out two to end the game.

Fifth Straight

The win was the fifth straight of the season for the LC-K team. It has four victories in the Fox Valley league. This was the first exhibition tilt.

Schmidt was the winning hurler after he took over for Bob Mehlberg in the ninth. Mehlberg did a creditable job as he allowed only three hits and struck out eight. Schmidt was nicked for two hits and struck out five in the two frames he worked.

Norm Pubanz took the loss for the Indians although he tossed a 5-hitter against the LC-K team and struck out 15 batters.

LC-K took a 1-0 lead in the first inning when manager Floyd Hammen drilled a homer, one of three in the game. The other two were by Shawano's Milt Mielh and Bill Jacobsen. Piehl's blast tied the score in the second and Jacobsen's came in the third.

In the top of the third the winners scored two runs as Hammen and Vander Wyst walked. They pulled the double steal successfully and both scored when Gene Peerenboom's grounder got by the first baseman.

Jacobsen's homer made it 3 to 2 and the score stayed that way until the seventh when the Indians knotted it as Beauprey scored after he walked and got the rest of the way around on a pair of errors.

Gene Peerenboom had two for four as he led the LC-K team. The Shawano hits were scattered. Fifteen players saw action for the winners as managers Hammen and Elmer Kobs gave everyone a chance to play.

600 Children Enrolled for Swimming Class

Kaukauna — Approximately 600 Kaukauna youngsters have enrolled for the swimming lessons at the Memorial pool, according to Miss Barbara Little, head instructor.

The youngsters have been divided into nine groups and take lessons twice each week for 45-minute periods. The first course starts at 9:45 in the morning and classes continue until noon. Rural youngsters enrolled in the Red Cross sponsored "learn to swim" program have the use of the pool from 9 o'clock to 9:45 each morning.

Instructions will continue throughout the summer and parents are being asked to have their child at the pool on time for each session. Parents are also asked to keep well back when children are taking instructions as they inadvertently serve as distractions to children and thus hinder progress.

Tentative plans call for a special parents day later in the summer to give adults an idea of their child's progress. A special class for advanced swimmers and divers has been formed and openings remain in this course.

Sporting Club Withdraws From Fishing Derby

Kaukauna — Members of the Rod and Gun club voted to withdraw support from the fishing portion of the annual Huck Finn day festivities as the pond where fishing was to be held appears too dangerous for youngsters.

The organization will go along with the parade portion of the program and the prizes for the best Huck Finn and Becky Thatcher costumes. The decision came after members pointed out the pond is located in the tailrace of the Fox river behind a power plant and a sudden surge of water could overflow low surrounding land and endanger youngsters who might be fishing in the area.

The city is currently erecting a small dam to back up water in the area to give youngsters a pond in which to fish but Rod and Gun club members felt the dam was not adequate in the event of heavy rains or storms. The organization formerly sponsored the event in cooperation with the recreation department in a pond which has been filled in as it became a stagnant pool late in summer and was considered a nuisance.

Describes Method Used for Cooling Small Apartment

Little Cost Involved in Fan 'Trick'

BY JOHN O. B. WALLACE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Under certain conditions and with a reasonable amount of ingenuity, an air conditioning system can be set up at little expense.

This Manhattan apartment dweller, shuddering through sleepless nights at the expense of redecorating and furnishing larger quarters, turned the trick with a 20-inch ventilating fan and a bolt of pink ribbon.

The ribbon was contributed by the little woman, whose cajoling and persistency were responsible for the project.

It was either do or falter on the brink of bankruptcy.

Too Many Bills

A store-bought air conditioning system seemed highly imprudent for the household after looking over the bills for the movers, new furniture, flooring and painting.

We'll return to the pink ribbon later. The layout of the apartment and its orientation were factors contributing to the success of the scheme.

The straight-line arrangement places the living room at the north end of the apartment, the bedroom at the south end, and the bath, kitchen, foyer and hall in between.

On the east side, a 6-foot-wide areaway separates the apartment and the adjoining building.

The wall of the adjoining building is never in direct sunlight, there are two floors above the apartment which insulate the apartment from roof heat—and fresh air circulates constantly and freely in the areaway.

From these set conditions, the air conditioning idea was born.

Controlled Speed

The 20-inch fan, which has a reversible 3-speed motor and thermostatic control, was mounted in the lower half of the large bedroom window. The top half of this window was tightly closed.

There are two living room windows. One was sealed completely. The bottom half of the second was closed; the top half was lowered about three inches.

The bottom part of the bathroom window was tightly closed; the top part was lowered about two inches. The front door was sealed to prevent any air from being pulled into the apartment from the outside hall.

The fan was set on "out" and started. Its suction effect pulled fresh air through the opening at the top of the living room window, across the living room into the hall, thence into the bedroom and emptied it into the areaway outside.

Simultaneously, a lesser current of air was being pulled into the bathroom through the smaller opening at the top of the bathroom window, out of the bathroom from under the bathroom door and into the hall. There it joined the current of fresh air originating in the living room and in turn was pulled into the bedroom and out into the areaway.

Cooking odors from the kitchen may be emptied out of the apartment in two ways. The kitchen can be closed off by louvered doors and the odors or heat are carried away by an overhead ventilator in the kitchen.

Alternate Patterns

Or the overhead ventilator can be closed and the louvered doors opened. In this way, cooking odors and heat are pulled out and into the current passing down the hall on its way toward the areaway.

By reversing the fan to the "in" position, the current is simply changed in its direction, not its effect.

In this pattern, the fresh air is drawn in from the areaway into the bedroom, pushed into the hall past the kitchen and the bath, thence into the living room and out through the opening at the top of the living room window.

A transom over the bedroom door can be utilized to maintain the flow of fresh air in either direction when the bedroom door is closed.

Pink Ribbon

Here, the pink ribbon comes into the picture. Small lengths were suspended at various distances from the floor and ceiling and in various parts of the apartment.

Civil Defense Officials From Outagamie and Brown counties have discussed routes from the Green Bay target area into Outagamie county. Shown above looking at the state civil defense plan is Outagamie County Chairman Alvin Fulcher watched by, left to right, Andrew J. Schiltz, Outagamie county CD coordinator; Arthur Norgaard, CD director of the town of Allouez, Brown county, and Joseph Bouressa, Green Bay resident CD planner. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Brown, Outagamie CD Planning Starts

Green Bay Target Area Routes Into County Set, Details Given

Outagamie county's civil defense plans and those of Appleton took a large step forward when members of the Brown county civil defense organization discussed refugees from the Green Bay target area who will be housed and fed in this area in case of emergency.

Appleton and the county, as part of the northeast reception area, must be prepared to accept about 30,000 people in case of the evacuation of Green Bay. Joseph Bouressa, who is writing the survival plan for the Green Bay target area, and Arthur Norgaard, CD director for the town of Allouez in Brown county, conferred with Andrew J. Schiltz, Outagamie county coordinator, and Robert C. Beltrone, Jr., Appleton director.

Actual Plans

Escape routes for evacuees coming into the county have been established and Schiltz and Beltrone will be sent a copy of the map. The establishment of the routes and the number of persons to be housed and fed in the county and city allows the civil defense organization here to make actual rather than theoretical plans for locating the refugees, it was said.

Beltrone and his staff have prepared a plan for utilizing public buildings and parks which will be submitted to the city's civil defense commission. The commission is expected to confer with the school board about the use of schools for refugees and with appropriate city agencies for use of other public buildings and grounds.

General Meeting

Schiltz said with the establishment of routes, not only those terminating in redistribution points in Appleton and the Kaukauna area, but those carrying refugees through the county, it was possible to plan points for stationing auxiliary police, refueling points and general facilities to speed evacuation.

Beware of Insects Doing Rock 'N Roll May Mean Termites are Moving in To Render Damage to Property

If you should chance on a swarm of insects dancing a sort of rock 'n roll, don't smile indulgently. Look closer—they may be termites!

While it doesn't say so in just these words, this is one of the means of identifying termites suggested to certified property managers of the Institute of Real Estate Management in an IREM bulletin on termite control.

The swarming of the termites occurs in the spring and the fall, the bulletin says, depending on the section of the country in which you and the termites live. It is at this time that most persons become aware of the fact that termites exist—and on their property.

It is true, according to the bulletin, that termites may eat the entire heart out of a piece of wood—"like a honeycomb"—while leaving its surface apparently unharmed. But the damage done by termite infestation of homes and buildings has been "grossly exaggerated."

Buildings Collapse
Only rarely, for instance, is a building so badly damaged that it will collapse. Still, there have been instances where heavy appliances or equipment have caused a termite-eaten floor to give way.

The control of termites, the institute warns, is not a "do-it-yourself" matter. It's a subject for proven experts in the field because other persons not only lack the knowledge and equipment, but the patience to follow through. Such being the case, the best course of action is to be able to identify the insect as soon as possible and call for technical help. In this way, the damage will be checked and eventual loss minimized.

The bulletin says that termites, because of a superficial resemblance are sometimes called white ants. While not defending white ants, the bulletin calls this confusion in identity "a serious misconception."

In general, there are two types of termites—wood-dwelling and ground-dwelling. The wood residents, responsible for only a small amount of termite damage, enter the wood directly and live entirely within it.

Most Damage
Ground-dwelling termites enter the earth or wood in the ground and live partly in the ground. Responsible for 90 per cent of the termite damage, this type of termite is found in all states, with the heaviest concentration in those with the warmest climates. Termites of this type must have moisture which they obtain from the ground. In the course of their progress to and from wood and ground, earthen tubes—which may reach 30 or 40 feet in length—are constructed over intervening brick, masonry, or cement.

Usually, however, the subterranean termite enters a structure through wood that has been placed in contact with the ground, such as a mud sill, or porch steps. Posts in contact with the ground, plates, studs and floor joists are frequently attacked also.

While the presence of tubes is a good indication of the presence of termites, the bulletin correctly observes that "obviously, the surest sign of termite infestation is the discovery of termites within the timbers of a building."

Good Test
"A good test is to sound the wood with a hammer, or to try to puncture the wood with an ice pick," the publication advises. "The sound, uninfested boards will not have the hollow thud that is given forth by a honey-combed timber."

In the wood, as it were, the termite is unopposed in appearance. The workers and nymphs, greyish-white, move sluggishly to get away from the light. Close examination will show contrasting worker and soldier termites and the thick waist—"an identifying feature."

To avoid subterranean termite infestation, property owners are advised to place all wood construction so that it cannot be reached. In the case of the wood-dwelling termite, which reaches the wood by flying, "the best preventive method is to use construction materials that are inedible." Some protection may be obtained, however, by painting all exposed surfaces, and screening all openings near the roof.

Three Boys Hurt When Homemade Rocket Explodes

Cleveland—(AP)—A home-made rocket—with 1,200 match heads as fuel—blew up in suburban Rocky River Wednesday. Three boys were injured, one seriously.

Neighbors blocks away heard the blast and notified police. Most severely injured was Michael Johnson, 13. He was taken to Lakewood hospital with a possible skull fracture. His condition was listed as fair.

The other two boys are Ronald Lewis, 11, treated for burns, and released, and Guy Zavodny, 9. Stitches were taken in the left side of Zavodny's face and he was released.

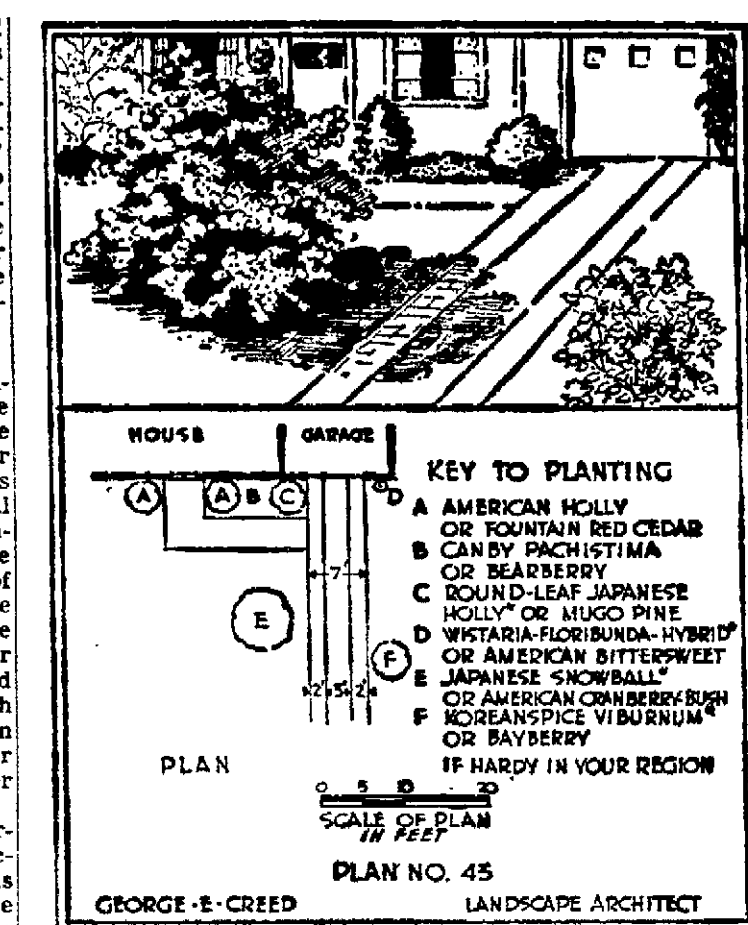

Police Lt. C. A. Woods said the boys used a 2-foot length of 3/4-inch copper pipe for the body of the rocket.

"They capped one end," he explained. "Then they filled the tube with 1,200 match heads. They propped it up skyward on a board in a vacant lot and made some sort of fuse, but the fuse didn't work."

"When the fuse didn't work the boys built a fire under the rocket," Woods continued. "Then it went off."

Seeks Rezoning

Rezoning to multiple family district of two lots at the northeast corner of N. Oneida street and E. McArthur street has been asked of the city council by Ray McClone, 1107 E. Moorpark avenue. The request will go to the city council Wednesday and be referred to the city planning commission for study.

HOME REPAIR DOs and DON'Ts

By Andrew C. Lang

Question: The metal on our aluminum combination storm windows has become dark and mottled in some places, with a few signs of pitting. Can the aluminum be painted and is there some special way of treating it first?

Answer: Remove all dirt and loose aluminum oxide with a stiff bristle brush, preferably one with wire bristles. Sand where necessary to produce a smooth surface. Wipe with turpentine and mineral spirits. After the solvent has evaporated, apply a coat of metal primer. A zinc chromate primer is recommended. You can use house or trim paint after the primer but exterior metal enamel is even better. If you want a metallic look, apply one coat of aluminum metal-masonry paint over the primer... or two coats of the aluminum paint without the primer.

Question: A couple of years ago I wallpapered my bedroom. At the time I had a small piece of the paper left over. At the advice of a friend, I tacked it to the inside of a closet. He said it would come in handy if I ever had to make a patch, as the extra piece of wallpaper would weather to the same degree as the paper in the bedroom. He was right, but now that a little of the wallpaper in the bedroom is torn and must be replaced, I don't know how to go about making a patch that will be inconspicuous. Can you help me?

Answer: Your friend knew what he was talking about. If you had rolled up the scrap wallpaper and put it away somewhere, it now would look far newer than the paper on the wall and thus would make a conspicuous patch. To make the repair, cut out a section of the wallpaper containing the damaged part. Use a razor blade and make the cut along a part of the pattern. From the

Strip Paving Good Plan for New Driveway

Solid Sheet of Pavement May Not Answer Your Needs

BY GEORGE E. CREED
When you think of a driveway you usually visualize a solid sheet of pavement stretching between the street curb and the garage. However, it doesn't have to be this way. You can save money by constructing paving strips that are only wide enough to accommodate the wheels of your car.

These strips should be at least two feet wide and the distance between the outer edges should be about seven feet if your car is of average size. If you have a large car or a small one you can determine the over-all width by adding two feet to the measured distance between the wheels.

Depth of concrete in a driveway is important. To make it too shallow is false economy. A good driveway should have a minimum depth of six inches. This will allow for the weight of light delivery trucks, and, of course, for your own automobile. If you already have a driveway and it is of light construction, don't allow any heavy trucks to drive on it.

Secret of Success
The secret of success of any pavement depends, in large measure, on the way the ground is graded before the pavement is laid. This grading should be done carefully so that the finished result will be smooth and compact without any humps and low spots. Where it is necessary to make a fill with earth to bring a low spot up to the proper grade such fill should be placed in 2 or 3-inch layers, compacting each layer with a tamper of some sort.

When setting your form boards, work to lines established by stakes and strings. Form boards, of course, should extend the full depth of your pavement and should be held firmly in place by stakes driven in the ground.

To avoid cracking, lay the strips in lengths not exceeding 15 feet, with definite joints separating each length. It's also a good idea to reinforce the pavement with steel mesh placed at a depth of two inches from finished surface.

Owners Pouring Billions Into Home Projects

Total Bill for All Improvements May Reach $12 Billion

The nation's home owners will be picking up a multi-billion-dollar tab this year for home improvements.

Experts place the total bill at between $8 billion and $12 billion for all types of improvements—from painting the front porch to major remodeling. The U.S. Bureau of Census estimates that home owners will spend about $44 billion for additions and alterations that are actual structural changes.

Here is the way a substantial portion of the billions will be spent on home improvements: Kitchen modernization, utilizing built-in appliances and resurfacing countertops and splashbacks and complete redecorating.

Remodeling living areas by eliminating unnecessary partitions and old-style archways, removing dark, heavy woodwork and re-styling for contemporary decor.

Air Service May Begin Here Oct. 27

North Central airlines officials said Thursday that Oct. 27 is the present probable date for air service inauguration to the Outagamie county airport.

Their estimate is based on a probable final decision on air service by the civil aeronautics board by August and the regular fall schedule change which occurs Oct. 27.

Two airline representatives were in Appleton to make an inspection and recommendations for the county port's temporary terminal.

Thomas Needham, chief superintendent of North Central stations, and R. J. Smith, regional superintendent of airlines stations, conferred with Douglas Evans, county board airport committee member, and William Pifer, head of the chamber of commerce airport committee.

The temporary terminal will be located near the end of the present parking area east of the present airport office. A gravel parking apron will have to be surfaced, a walk built to the present taxi strip, and the temporary terminal and loading area surrounded with a fence, the North Central men indicated.

The airline needs between 400 and 600 square feet of space in the terminal building, they said.

Evans said the airport committee will estimate costs for the work and come before the county board's July 8 meeting.

A ceiling light—a ground level light with a beam shining straight up to indicate height of clouds—must be installed near the terminal building, North Central officials said.

The city council's finance committee was sharply critical Thursday of some items which relief clients are buying with grocery money.

Scouts' First Cousin--New Zealand Girl Guide Renews Family Ties

A jaunty, blue-costumed figure is making the acquaintance of 4,164 "cousins" in the Fox Cities this month and in doing so, is renewing family ties which stretch halfway around the world.

The traveler is Miss Mary Hopkirk, New Zealand native and Girl Guide leader, who is currently visiting the Fox River Area Girl Scout council to exchange notes on scouting programs in the two countries. And for each, the reciprocal trade has revealed mutual aims adapted to varying cultures.

Miss Hopkirk explains the kinship of Guides and Scouting as a difference in name only. "The Guides," she points out, "began in 1909 when Peace Scouts were organized in New Zealand—they were related to the Guide program. In 1925, they joined the world association."

First to Visit

The slim, dark haired woman has been on an event-packed itinerary since her arrival in the Fox Cities on May 26. She is the first adult in the Scout exchange program to visit the Fox River council, with her stay here sponsored under the auspices of the Juliette Lowe World Friendship fund of Girl Scouts of America.

Her survey of the council's 8-county radius has been extensive: she has poked into every cranny of regional scouting in an endeavor to discover what makes it tick.

The distinctively dressed visitor—clad in the official Guide commissioner—trainer uniform of dark blue skirt and jacket, light blue blouse, navy tie and perky beret, has been a conversation piece in the forest-green gatherings of local adults and youthful scouts.

Her scout's eye view has included leadership clinics at New London and Kaukauna, talks to Appleton and Neenah-Menasha girls, informal cook-outs, teas, and home-cooked suppers with families.

Compares Programs

"There's a slightly different emphasis," remarked Miss Hopkirk as she compared the two systems. "At home, there's more training of the girl for responsibility—more stress on the individual than the troop."

Sketched briefly, the New Zealand program builds on bigger troops and a developed patrol unit. Six-to-eight girls work in a patrol directed by an older girl from 14 to 16 years old. The adult leader teaches the patrol leader who in turn instructs the younger girls.

"It's a constant process of moving up," pointed out the New Zealander, "as the girls work individually to pass tests (similar to the badge projects of Fox River scouts). Each girl's ambition is to be a patrol leader."

Do-It-Yourself Camping

Similar to the Senior Scouts of America are the Senior Rangers—who pride themselves on being able to rough it and do-it-yourself. "They're great on camping," said Miss Hopkirk—many New Zealanders spending their "holiday" this way.

"Girls in a good ranger company," she continued, "make their own sleeping bags, carry weekend needs on their backs, about 25 pounds, and walk and cycle to their camp site. It takes a bit of doing but they had, you Americans have such hospitality."

A Stick Game Originating With the Lummi Indians of the Oregon coast was watched carefully by Miss Hopkirk when Scouts Julie Huttenburg, left and Shirley Johnson, demonstrated the technique at a tea given by troop 64 of Jefferson school, Appleton. The Indian game is similar to one played by the Maori peoples of New Zealand, with whom Miss Hopkirk has worked. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Local guides have escorted her to Lawrence commencement, the Institute of Paper Chemistry, classes at Morgan and Jefferson schools, Appleton, and Washington school in Neenah. Saturday, she will depart for Chalk Hills camp where she will work with girls participating in the "Little Round-up."

On June 19, she will leave the Fox Valley region to attend national Scouting training sessions, including a visit at national headquarters in New York City.

Miss Hopkirk—active in the Guides for 25 years—recalls her interest in Scouting began in childhood with an ambition to be a Brownie. During the war years she served as a young leader.

Interspersed with kindergarten teacher's training and subsequent positions, has been Guide activity—all on a volunteer, parttime level. The New Zealander is one of 3 trainers in her country which carries on its program without the aid of full-time professional direction. As a Guide representative, Miss Hopkirk has attended conferences in England, Switzerland and Australia and has toured the continent.

UNESCO Worker

Scouting in Ethiopia was given a boost by Miss Hopkirk when she worked there as a teacher. Work with girls in the Pacific Islands near New Zealand—part of the New Zealand program—led her to be signaled out by UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Social and Cultural organization.

Believing that the guides offered facilities to teach a broad program of health and hygiene, UNESCO leaders asked Miss Hopkirk to work in the Islands. "I was a bit of a curiosity," she gaily relates. "I must have met the whole lot in the Cook Islands—about 1,600."

Traveling by copra boat, she hopped between the small coral atolls visiting villages to teach the rudiments of sanitation. At each stop she worked with native materials and common foods to enable the natives to continue the program after she left.

Other Interests

But not all is guide work for Miss Hopkirk—she is a Bible class Sunday school worker and likes to play tennis. As an exchange-observer, she has visited similar groups in the council area. — she breaks off recounting to exclaim, "but

These Days

Cyrus Eaton, Soviet Protagonist,
May be Too Accustomed to Freedom

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

The assumption that because a man is a capitalist, he must be anti-communist or anti-Russian is untenable.

Cyrus Eaton is an American capitalist. He has made a fortune in the United States, Canada and elsewhere. He has become a protagonist of more friendly Soviet-American relations. Naturally, that is his privilege.

But he, too often, associates his pro-Soviet attitudes with intemperance statements on subjects concerning which he cannot be well-informed.

Eaton has said:

"The way to combat communism is not by witch-hunting and wire-tapping. These police-state methods may gain momentary notoriety for the office seeking politicians who advocate and employ them, but they offer no solution for our long term economic problems."

Questions
To which the following questions may be asked:

1. What is the "solution for our long-term economic problems?"

2. Whose wires have been tapped and by whom?

3. What politicians employ wire tapping and for what purpose?

Concerning the solution it would be interesting to hear Eaton out. He may have a philosophy and he may not. The fact that a man knows how to manipulate money is not sure proof that he does or does not know anything else. I have for years read Eaton's statements on various subjects and thus far have not discovered that he is either an Adam Smith or a Karl Marx. But there is no knowing he may have a solution up his sleeve.

Eaton wrote in "The Progressive":

"Our Mr. Dulles sometimes talks just as the Kaiser did in 1914. And when one becomes swollen with pride one becomes arrogant and truculent and someone will take up the what? Khrushchev said. Also, challenge."

Then he added:

"I feel confident Russia is not now trying to sell the United States on communism. . ."

Now, just as a matter of accuracy, I wish Eaton would draw up parallel columns showing the similarity of the Kaiser and Dulles, the talk of the Kaiser in 1914 and of Dulles in 1958 or any other year Eaton might choose. It might also be interesting to compare Eaton's statement concerning Soviet Russia's efforts to sell the United States on communism with Khrushchev's interview on a television show in which he assured all Americans that their grandchildren would live under socialism, meaning his particular brand which is called communism.

Either Khrushchev did not know what he meant to say or Eaton did not understand what Khrushchev said. Also, Eaton might read Khrushchev's speech to the Bulgarian communists which deals with this subject.

Whereas it was possible for Khrushchev to do this job of propaganda within the United States, it is still impossible for any American to speak to the Russian people. Khrushchev might, of course, justify Eaton's optimism by permitting the speech that Herbert Hoover will deliver at the Brussels fair to be heard by the entire Soviet universal state.

Called FBI Gestapo
Cyrus Eaton went on Mike Wallace's television show to call the FBI a gestapo. Does he know what the gestapo was?

Does he know what the CHEKA, the NKVD were? Does he know what the MVD is? Does he know what the FBI is? Anybody can get front page notice if he is sufficiently ridiculous. The Cleveland "Plain Dealer" put it very concisely when it wrote in an editorial:

"... We've heard of the midnight knock on the door, the arrest without warrant, the torture chamber, the forced confession, the trial without jury, the bullet in the head and so on, but we always attributed that kind of stuff to the gestapo and the MVD. However, we must remember that Eaton was talking about his own special world, and that world bears no relation to reality."

Of course, the FBI does not operate that way and Eaton must know it for no one has bothered him because he has become the protagonist of Soviet Russia while an American citizen. He still can say what he chooses and he is not sent to a Siberia to work out his last years mining gold. Here, actually the FBI protects him in his constitutional right to say what he chooses to say, wise or stupid, beneficial or harmful. There is the essential difference. Perhaps Eaton is so accustomed to freedom that he does not appreciate the lack of

Vandals Cause Damage At Bridgewood Course

Break Doors, Windows, Bottles in Two Buildings; Punch Holes in 18th Green

Neenah — Vandals caused extensive damage at Bridgewood golf course Thursday night or this morning. The break-in was the second in two weeks.

Damaged were the clubhouse, pro shop and 18th green. The break-in was reported to Neenah police at 7:12 this morning by a golfer who had just arrived for an early round.

He found the quarter-inch plywood front door of the clubhouse broken and smashed in. After investigation police theorized that the vandals followed this route:

They broke into the clubhouse, spilled catsup from behind the bar on the floor and on the walls and smashed a number of beer bottles on the walls and floor. Two small footprints were found in the catsup. Two full cans of beer were found near the door.

Beer bottles were also smashed against the outside of the clubhouse. One bottle ripped through a screen and broke a window.

The vandals then went to the pro shop. Four full beer cans were found along the path. At the pro shop they broke 15 windows and broke in by smashing the lower half of the door.

Hurl Caddy Carts Caddy carts left outside the clubhouse were thrown against the windows, breaking the glass John Beck, 719 Carver lane, and wooden dividing bars. Po-Menasha.

The vandals then crossed the slough and left by way of W. Cecil street, police believe.

Charles Bridges, Omro, operator of the pro shop, said nothing was missing from the building. About $5 left in the cash register was untouched.

Jerry Beckerson, 623 S. Lake street, closed the clubhouse at 9:30. He said he saw nothing suspicious while tending bar, except for two men, about 21 or 22, who bought two beers and drank them in a back room which is rarely used.

Beckerson said the men acted normally and that he doubted he would recognize them if he saw them again.

The Bridgewood club house and pro shop were also entered on May 29, when $50 was stolen.

Twin City Births Neenah — Theda Clark hospital today reported the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. John Beck, 719 Carver lane, and wooden dividing bars. Po-Menasha.

Detours to Carry Hy. 41 Traffic at BB, PP Overheads

Contractors Reported Far Ahead of Schedule on Spans

Neenah — Blacktop by-pass roads will be built at two places on Highway 41 today and Saturday to carry traffic along that highway while construction crews work on the present highway, Ralph Musen, resident engineer of the State Highway department, said today.

These by-pass roads will be built at the County Trunk PP intersection and in the area south of County Trunk BB which is the county line road. C. R. Meyer and sons of Oshkosh, which has the contract for the grade separation overheads at those two points, will build the by-pass roads.

The County Trunk PP detour by-pass is needed because construction crews must begin building a pier in the middle of the present east lane of Highway 41. The same is true at the county line because the hill is so steep and traffic will move along the east side of the present highway at that spot.

All of the companies which have contracts for the relocation and 4-laning of Highway 41 are far ahead of schedule, Musen said. Installation of the pre-cast concrete beams spanning the piers at the Soo Line viaduct was completed Tuesday. The long culvert extension south of County Trunk U was completed also this week.

The C. R. Meyer firm has completed about half of its work and most of the heavy mass concrete parts, he said.

The viaduct over the Soo Line tracks will be only two lanes wide because the present via-

Twin Cities Scene Of Park Society's State Meeting

Neenah — The Wisconsin Park and Recreation society, a professional group of park and recreation administrators, will hold one of its two summer meetings in the Twin Cities on Aug. 7.

About 150 to 200 people are expected at the session, which will draw participants from all over the state.

A local committee formulated plans for the meeting Thursday. On the committee are Bill Miller and Robert Van- evenhoven, Neenah and Menasha recreation directors, and Edgar Patterson and Harry Kargus, Twin City park superintendents.

Included in the day's meeting will be tours of both swimming pools, the playground programs in both cities and a luncheon at Neenah's Riverside park pavilion.

The society last met here about nine years ago when members toured all the Fox Cities.

Motorist Kills Cow on Highway

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — A cow was killed by a Neenah motorist this morning on county trunk A in the town of Vinland.

Robert S. Collipp, 28, 514 Clark street, Neenah, told police he was driving north on the Lakeshore road shortly after 4 o'clock and saw eight or 10 cows crossing the road ahead of him. He applied his brakes, Collipp said, but not in time to avoid striking the last cow in line, killing it.

The cows, owned by John Schmidt of route 1, Neenah, were unattended. They apparently broke out of their pasture sheriff's police said. Collipp was unhurt.

Neenah Driver Charges 'Speed Trap' Arrest

Mexican Consul For State Stopped By Illinois Police

Neenah — Operation of a radar "speed trap" by Illinois state police near the Wisconsin border on Highway 41 was blasted this week by Miguel Wimer, 334 Fourth street, Mexican consul for Wisconsin and a Kimberly-Clark corporation employee.

Wimer was arrested Monday on a charge of driving 62 miles an hour in a 45-mile-an-hour zone about four miles south of the Illinois - Wisconsin line. He waived any claim to diplomatic immunity and paid $10 and costs to an Illinois justice of the peace.

In a letter written to the American Automobile association and a Chicago newspaper, Wimer said he had been in Chicago for a meeting with the new consul general of Mexico. On his way home he was stopped by police.

"Zone So Small" "The radar zone is so small that by the time you comply with the 45-mile-an-hour limit, you are in the hands of the police. You get your ticket and are ordered to return one block and pay your fine or return several days later before a judge in Wadsworth.

"Speed trap is a very kind name for this stretch of road," he wrote. "As the consul of Mexico traveling on official business, perhaps I could have refused to pay the fine. But rather than lose time, I paid $15."

The justice of the peace, LeRoy E. Fritz, said the 45-mile-an-hour zone is three-fourths of a mile long, posted with eight signs for northbound traffic. It includes an intersection and the exit and entrance to the Illinois weighing station and is for safety in crossing the intersection. About 50 speeding arrests were made there Monday.

duct to the east still will be used. The overhead at the county line will be two separate structures of two lanes each, divided by about 30 feet between their outer railings.

PP Intersection

The grade separation at County Trunk PP will be a 2-lane structure which will carry only southbound traffic moving on PP toward Neenah. Northbound traffic will join Highway 41 at the grade level. This span will have steel beams because of the distance of over 70 feet between piers. The other overheads all have precast concrete beams.

Highway Pavers, Inc., of Wauwatosa, also is far ahead of schedule with its construction of six overheads from Highway 114 north to Highway 150. Much of the concrete deck on the spans has been completed and only the concrete curbs and rails are needed on some.

Pouring of the concrete deck for the Highway 150 overhead was completed today and already is complete on the Main street overhead. Curb and rails are needed at the Highway 150 span and railing at the Main street structure.

Pour Next Week

Pouring of the center span on the N. Plummer court overhead still is to be made and also on the middle span for the north street bridge which will be done next week. The first and third spans of the latter structure are done. Also completed is the work on the industrial underpass at Courtney and Plummer company.

Work is now being done on the railing for the Highway 114 grade separation where the concrete deck and curb are complete. The concrete deck varies from 5 1/2 to 7 inches in depth, depending of the length of the span.

The grading work between the overhead structures to get ready for the 4-lanes also is far ahead of schedule. Musen stated. This is being done by J. F. Bloomer company of Appleton from the south end to Highway 150 and by the Boulanger company of Casco for the portion between the Soo Line and County Trunk BB.

Milk Drinks Are Made By 4-H Girls

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Among the cool summer drinks, county 4-H girls are making this summer in conjunction with foods projects is "dairy berry refresher." The recipe requires one cup berries, two cups milk, one and one-half tablespoons sugar, pinch of salt and one-half pint ice cream. Mix the ingredients together well.

"Fresh Banana Frost" is made by mashing two ripe bananas and adding to one and one-fourth cups milk and one-half pint ice cream. Another milk drink, spiced peach blossom, is made by combining three-fourths cup mashed peaches, three tablespoons sugar, a dash of salt, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon and nutmeg, two and one-half cups cold milk and one-half pint ice cream.

Milk shakes can be flavored with chocolate, vanilla, spices, molasses, maple, strawberry or other fruit. Cherry, grape, apricot and orange juice can be added to milk for a different type of drink. Scoops of ice cream will change all of these milk drinks into fruit flavored ice cream floats.

Using milk drinks is a good way to get your family to drink more milk, says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent. Adults need three cups of milk a day and children should drink four cups or one quart. Recent studies show nearly half of the families failed to get enough milk with their meals.

Neenah — The Marathon Ramblers widened their lead in the National division of the Twin City Industrial Softball league by blasting runnerup, Bergstrom Paper 14-5 Thursday night. The Rams now have a 6-0 record to 5-2 for Bergstrom's.

Main Office and Gilbert Paper moved back into a three-way tie for first place in the American division with the Marathon Packagers. It was Gilbert's sixth straight win.

Wooden Ware Cops
 In the fourth game, Wooden Ware picked up its first victory after five straight losses by downing Strange Paper 9-3. The Ramblers scored in clusters of four in their win over Bergstrom's. They had four hits in the first, second and sixth and singletons in two other frames. Bergstrom's made three runs in the first and lone in the sixth and seventh.

Rohde Singles
 Bonnack stopped Neenah Paper without a hit until the seventh inning. Then Rohde got a single, took second on an error, advanced to third base on a passed ball and scored on an infield out. Ron Hunsicker, who drew a walk in the first, was the only other baserunner.

Gilbert's made 11 hits off loser Hilly Koslowski. Both Bonnack and Koslowski had 10 strikeouts. The Neenah Paper pitcher walked four.

The winners scored four times in the first inning and collected six runs in the second. Vic Grosskopf homered with none on in the third and they added two more in the fifth.

Merle Thiede had three hits and Bonnack and Jensen each made two for Gilbert's.

7-5 Hit Advantage
 Main Office tallied single runs in the second, fourth and fifth in downing Soo Line and the Railroaders collected singles in the first and sixth. Office had a 7-5 hit advantage.

Ken Krueger was the winning pitcher and Fromm took the loss. G. Johnson of Office with two hits was the only swinger on either team garnering more than one bingle.

Wooden Ware collected two runs in the first, one in the second and three in the third and fourth in its win over Strange's. The losers collected their three in the top of the seventh.

Bob Williams hit two homers to pace the Wooden Ware attack, both coming with a runner on base.

Baseball Clown To Appear With All-Americans

Girls Team to Play Menasha Macs for 2nd Straight Year

Menasha — "Bobo" Nickerson, one of the top baseball clowns in the country, will appear with the All-American Girls Baseball team which faces the Menasha Macs at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Menasha ball park.

Nickerson appeared here in recent years with the House of David and other traveling professional teams. He is known for his antics involving unsuspecting umpires.

The girls team, which will be meeting the Macs for the second straight year, is making its fourth seasonal tour. Some of the girls played in the old All-American Girls baseball league. They downed the Macs 5-4 last summer.

The girls play men's teams exclusively and play baseball rules with one exception. They exchange batteries with their opponents, thus two of the girls will form the pitching and catching combination for the Macs while Mac players will pitch and catch for the All-Americans.

In addition to playing the Macs, the girls will perform several stunts, featuring their "shadowball" workout.

Pitcher Bula Miller will throw her speedy pitches and field scorching ground balls and Delores Lee will stand at home plate and throw two balls simultaneously, one going to the pitcher and the other to the second baseman. She also throws two balls from the mound to two receivers standing 25 feet apart behind home plate.

The girls are managed by Bill Allington, a former professional player. He will hold tryouts preceding the game for any local girls who are interested in making baseball a career.

Optimist Club Pram Sailing Lessons Get Underway Saturday

Classes are planned June 14, 21 and 28, July 12, 19 and 26 and Aug. 2 and 9. Because of the Inland Lakes Yachting association regatta here, no sailing will be held the week of Aug. 16 to 23. The final sailing dates will be announced later.

Three teams, made up of 13 members each, will assist with the program. John Sensenbrenner, Jr., Eric Bergstrom and Gig Young are captains. Bergstrom is fleet commodore and Sensenbrenner, vice commodore.

Children Get Head Start on Reading Plans

Library Program Will Officially Open June 23

Neenah — The summer reading program for Neenah youngsters will officially open June 23, although children have already been keeping the librarians busy with registrations.

The program, for youngsters in school grades one through eight, is designed to give as much personal reading guidance as possible and to develop a closer relationship between the children and the librarians.

To make the reading more attractive, the librarians have prepared a "Dive for Treasure" scene in the children's room. Each child enrolled in the program will be represented as a miniature diver on the display, and will descend one fathom for each book he reads.

To reach the treasure, a child must read 40 books. In order to earn credit for reading a book, a youngster must make an oral or written report for the librarian, or draw a picture from one of the scenes in the book.

A large group of new children's books is on display for youngsters of all ages. Included are "The First Book of Fairy Tales" by Elizabeth Abbott, "The Mouse Who Liked to Read in Bed" by Beatrix Potter, "The First Book of World War II" by Louis Snyder, "Elf Owl" by Mary Buff, "Happiness for Kimi" by Eleanor Lattimore, "The Cave of Spears" by Lestee Del Rey, "Horse Show Hurdles" by Joan Houston, "Houseboat Girl" by Lois Lenski, "Mystery of Satellite 7" by Charles Coombs, "The Golden Stallion and the Wolf Dog" by Rutherford Montgomery and "Space Stations" and "Man-Made Satellites" by Willy Ley.

Anthony Stops Orville Pitts In 5th Round

Milwaukee Wins First 3 Before Tony Opens Up

Milwaukee — Second-ranked light heavyweight Tony Anthony took a bit of pounding while warming up Thursday night, but once he started swinging, he stopped Orville Pitts in the fifth round after dropping the former college boxer four times.

Anthony, of New York City, weighed 176 pounds and Pitts, a Milwaukeean, 174; for their scheduled 10-rounder in the Arena. The bout attracted 5,423 fans and a gross gate of $17,805.70.

The 23-year-old Anthony claimed his thirty-third victory in 39 starts, but he paid his respects to Pitts, making his seventh pro start, saying:

"Pitts' Second Defeat
"He shook me up in the second and third rounds. He's the first guy who ever outboxed me. He reminded me of myself when I was getting started."

It was the second defeat for Pitts, 24, who suspended his law studies at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee to test his ring future. He won the first three rounds, making his best showing in the second when he had Anthony hanging on after a series of rights and lefts thrown to the head from long range.

Toward the end of the third round Anthony discovered that Pitts has trouble protecting his midsection. From then on it was only a matter of time until the New Yorker made his combinations pay off.

A softening up attack on Pitts' midsection in the fourth opened the way for lefts and rights that put the Milwaukeean down for a nine count. He pulled himself up, but Anthony landed an explosive right on the jaw that put Pitts down again. The bell stopped the count at two.

Pitts seemed refreshed as the fifth round opened, and tried to trade shots with Anthony, but a crashing left hook spread Pitts out another time. He got up at eight and Anthony came on with a free-swinging, 2-fisted assault that dumped Pitts over the center strand of the rope.

Referee Milt Goldstein ended the bout, not bothering to take another count.

Boston — Billy Ryan, 171½, Lowell, Mass., stopped Gordon Farnsworth, 168, Bangor, Maine, 5.

Two of the leading batters in the Three-I league will match swings Saturday night at Goodland field when the Fox Cities and Cedar Rapids open a weekend series. The Raiders' Horace Garner (upper photo) has won the league batting title the last two years. The Foxes' Carlos Pascual ranked second to Davenport's Jim Lynn (378 to .379) in the latest official league averages that only included Tuesday's games. However, since then, "Potato" has rocketed his average up to .406. (Post-Crescent Photos)

13 of 15 Best Scorers Have Entered Fox Cities Tourney

Don Strutz Has Leading Composite Mark

Thirteen of the 15 best scorers in the history of the Fox Cities Amateur Golf tournament have already filed entries for the 1958 renewal of the competition.

The two who have not signed up to date are Butte des Morts' Bob Martin, No. 13; and Kaukauna Fox Valley's Lew Cattanauch, No. 15.

BDM's Don Strutz, the defending champion, has the best composite record among golfers who have played in at least three of the four Post-Crescent sponsored tourneys. For his 90 holes of tourney play, he has averaged 4.19 strokes.

Steingraber Second
The runnerup is Ridgeway's Charlie Steingraber with a 4.23-stroke pace for each of his 126 holes of tourney action (exclusive of sudden-death play).

Ridgeway's Chet Bland, who entered this morning, owns a 4.27-stroke pace for 126 holes. At Nos. 4 and 5, respectively, stand Ridgeway's Herb Stinski and Appleton Muni's Chuck Bayer, with averages of 4.28 and 4.30.

By this morning, the 1958 entry list had risen to 57. Golfers planning to play in the tourney have until midnight Saturday to file their entries.

Among the other new entrants are Bob Derus and John Andrejeski, both of Fox Valley, who own the tenth and fourteenth best composite scores in the tourney.

John De Young, runnerup in the 1957 Appleton city tourney, is another of this morning's entrants. Tom Zeuthen has become the third Menasha North Shore player to register.

Jim Reeve's entry gives Riverview four entrants — one short of the total needed for entry in the team competition. John Steudel is the latest Appleton Muni entrant.

Following are the records of the 15 best Fox Cities tourney scorers to date, with the figures, in order, representing total strokes, total holes and average strokes:

1. Don Strutz (377, 90, 4.19)
2. Charles Steingraber (533, 126, 4.23)

Hunter Goes To Tribe for Carrasquel

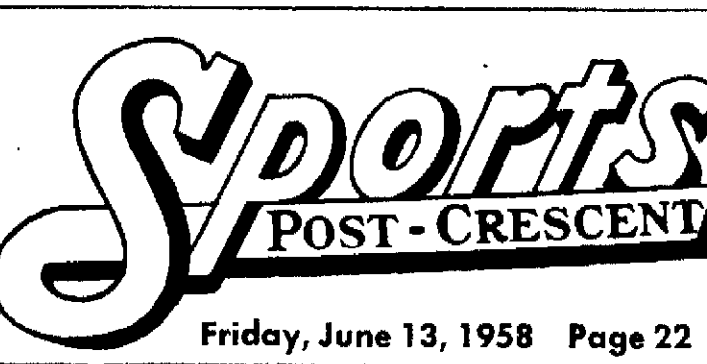

New York — Billy Hunter and "Chico" Carrasquel, 30-year-old infielders went to work for new bosses today.

Hunter, a good fielder, no hit utility infielder, was traded Thursday by the Kansas City Athletics to the Cleveland Indians for "Chico", himself no Mickey Mantle at the plate.

General Manager Frank Lane of Cleveland is hopeful the slick fielding Hunter will pull the Indians' weak infield defense together.

Jockey Snyder Dies

Baltimore — Joseph E. Snyder, 25, whose mount fell on him in a race at Charles Town, W. Va., died Thursday night from severe head injuries.

3 Share Open Lead With 1-Over-Par 71s

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Tulsa, Okla. — Twenty years ago Dick Metz, then a star of the pro golf circuit, had the National Open championship all wrapped up going into the last round, only to lose it with a horrible 79.

Today Metz, a weather-beaten 50, was out in front again as the Open went into its second round. And he probably was the only person on the premises who thought he had as good a chance of staying ahead as the two players who were tied with him.

Sharing the lead with Metz after an opening day in which no one could equal par on the heat-seared, windswept Southern Hills course were Tommy Bolt and Julius Boros. They shot 71—real good golf on a rugged day when some of golf's best known stars had to settle for 75s. Southern Hills' par is 35-35-70 for a tough, hilly 6,907-yard layout.

Frequent Errors
The heat and the wind made it play tougher Thursday and caused frequent errors of judgment in approaching the greens.

"A harrowing, heartbreaking experience," was what veteran Gene Sarazen called it after posting a score of 84. There

Nisewonger Hits Pair Of Homers

Rochester, Minn. — The Fox Cities Foxes continued to find Mayo field good for their baseball health

Tuesday night, smacking Rochester, 13-5, for their third straight win.

South p a w Dick Griffitt coasted to his seventh win in nine decisions as the Foxes matched their longest winning streak of the Three-I league season.

The Foxes used a 7-run first inning as the springboard to their fourth win in their last five starts. They have now beaten the A's four straight times to even the season's series at 6-6.

Jim Nisewonger and Carlos Pascual led the attack on three Rochester pitchers with three runs batted in apiece. Nisewonger the Fox Cities' newest outfielder, wallowed his third and fourth homers of the week and had a run-scoring single. Pascual socked four hits in six tries.

Every Fox except Billy Bone hit safely at least once. Griffitt pitched an 8-hitter, struck out seven and walked eight.

Payne Doubles
In the Fox Cities first, Bob Tano, walked, but Don Danton grounded out. "Tex" Taylor walked, and Pascual singled to left to score the first run. Jim Hall hit into a force-out, leaving men on first and third. Nisewonger singled to left, scoring Taylor.

"Chick" Payne doubled to left, counting Hall. Bone grounded to short, but Akers threw the ball away, allowing two runs to tally. Starter-loser Stan Horvatin's last mound act was to walk Griffitt.

Don McFarlane came in and promptly walked Tano, Danton and Taylor to force in two runs. On Taylor's walk, the fourth ball was a wild one. Tano attempted to score but was caught at the plate, Rick Rogers, to McFarlane.

The Foxes added one in the second on Milwaukee's 2-out homer over the left field wall. Jim belted another—his fourth of the season—to lead off the fifth.

The visitors added a singleton in the eighth on a single by Taylor, an error by Jim Bawcom and an "accidental" single by Jim Hall. Hall tried to get out of the way of a pitch, but the ball hit his bat and went into left field.

The Foxes added their final three in the ninth on singles by Tano, Dantonio and Pascual, a walk to Griffith and an infield-out.

Rochester scored once in the first on a walk to Dave Gorrie and singles by Jackie Brathwaite and Jim Bawcom.

Rogers led off the third with his fourteenth home run of the season.

Roy Scervey's bases-loaded triple in the ninth gave the A's their final consolation runs.

The teams meet here again tonight in the finale of the 4-game series.

Arabs in Algeria Won't Talk With U.S. Newsmen

Questions About De Gaulle Bring Shrugs, Evasive Answers, Fear and Slamming Doors

BY REILMAN MORIN

Algiers — An Arab woman, shrinking into the deep shadows of her dank little room, gestures impatiently. "Go away," she says. "No, I don't want a cigarette. No, I won't talk to you. Just go away."

In a hole-in-the-wall shop, Mohammed Mikiri, the merchant, starts to answer a question.

"De Gaulle? Well, in my opinion —"

He breaks off abruptly. Two red-hatted French zouaves, carrying tommyguns, come down the narrow alleyway, heavy boots clattering on the ancient cobblestones.

"As I was saying," says Mohammed Mikiri, smoothly changing the subject, "business is slow. So many people buying on credit."

Even after the zouaves have passed, he says no more.

Doors slam shut suddenly as you approach. A Moslem woman pulls her veil up to the level of her dark eyes. You decide not to talk to a fruit vendor. His son was killed here last week.

This is the casbah.

The Algiers casbah, locale for romantic movies and scene of countless love stories, is a place of fear and festering hatred now.

It smells of death.

French paratroops went through it — in effect with fire and sword — hunting down members of the Moslem revolutionary force that has been fighting for nearly four years to shatter French rule in Algeria. That was last year, and the patrols and barbed wire barricades are still in the casbah.

The paratroops blew up great chunks of the tawny thick-walled jumble of buildings, killed some people, wounded others, carried still others off to prison.

So the casbah is quiet now — except that murders still take place there, whether for personal or political reasons you never know.

Casbah means fort in Arabic. You can see why the one on the hill in Algiers was an ideal fort for the Moslem rebels.

It is a fantastic maze of twisting alleys and passages barely wide enough for two persons to pass. They coil into each other like serpents through tunnels and secret doors that pierce the walls of this vast pile of masonry, interconnecting houses and dwelling places. You could travel miles in the casbah and never be seen.

Mrs. Alice Dietz, Center, a handicraft instructor from Minneapolis, Minn., shows four Appleton playground leaders how to make a popsicle stick design Thursday at the Green Bay play leaders' institute. The Appleton leaders, left to right, are Sharon Carlson, Bill Brown, Jack Ulwelling and Nancy Matteson. All of the city's 22 play leaders and supervisors attended the 1-day institute. # Delusion of Grandeur for U. S. to Feel Its Embargos Can Stop Soviet Growth of a great question which is becoming increasingly important and insistent. The question is whether the general direction of our policy should be to expand or to restrict economic relations with the communist countries.

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

Washington — In dealing with the foreign aid bill, the senate touched briefly on the fringes

The question was raised on a rather narrow technical issue, that of the Kennedy amendment which would have eliminated the rigid prohibitions of the existing law. But Sen. Knowland, who just managed to defeat the amendment, based his fight on the broadest possible ground. As he argued his case, it would be fair to say that he regards any economic intercourse with any communist country as an unfortunate lapse from the ideal policy, which would be by embargo, boycott, and if it were feasible, blockade, to have no economic intercourse.

Although Knowland brought about the defeat of the Kennedy amendment by a margin of only one vote, it is fair to say his fundamental theory has for long and until recently been that of the predominant majority of the congress. Establish Embargo. We can say that the cold war, which has been latent since the Russian revolution, broke out openly in July, 1947. The cold war began when Molotov, taking the Czechs and the Poles with him, withdrew from the Paris conference which was dealing with what was to become the Marshall plan. A few months later, in March, 1948, the administration initiated a program for export controls designed to prevent the sale to the Soviet orbit of commodities which would strengthen its war-making capacity. In 1950, as a result of the Korean war, the United States Britain had undisputed command of the seas and could enforce an embargo on China, force an effective blockade on In 1952 our allies joined us in an enemy. The doctrine of a system of controls which were stiffer than those applied to the Soviet Union.

Where the existing system falls short of Sen. Knowland's ideal it is because our allies and our clients have been able to refuse to participate in complete non-intercourse.

The theory has had a reasonably reliable practical test for a period of 10 years. There has been a little but there has not been much trade with communist countries. If Knowland's conception of the whole thing is correct, his policy ought to show that it has really caused serious trouble in the economic affairs of the Soviet Union.

The fact of the matter is that the growth of the Soviet economy has been amazing. It may have been slowed up in some measure by the restrictions, but, in spite of the restrictions, according to a recent staff memorandum to the committee on foreign affairs, "the Soviet rate of industrial growth for total production is considerably larger than that of the United States, although our total production is presently going otov, faster in absolute terms, the Poles with him, withdrew from Soviet rate of growth is great- the Paris conference which er."

Theory Not Working. The basic theory that communist development can be slowed up or strangled by our controls and boycotts is not working. What is wrong with the theory? In the last analysis the theory is left over from the past history of military warfare, from the days when Korean war, the United States Britain had undisputed command of the seas and could enforce an embargo on China, force an effective blockade on In 1952 our allies joined us in an enemy. The doctrine of blockade worked effectively against the Germans in World war I. But in the second, against the empire conquered by Hitler, it did not work. It did work against the Japanese islands when our submarines and air force succeeded in blockading them.

It is a form of the delusion of grandeur to think that such a great central land mass, with big resources and an enormous population and a powerful government, can be brought down by restraints on our trade and on the trade of our allies.

Knowland's theory has not worked out in practice because it is mere wishful thinking which ignores the facts of life. The problem raised by the economic challenge of the Soviet Union and its allies are novel and among the most difficult in their complexity that we have ever had to deal with. Henceforth the communist economic competition is bound to become a crucial concern of the non-communist world. There is no easy and ready-made answer to it.

But this at least is certain: we shall only befuddle ourselves as long as we do not clear our minds of the antiquated notion that our relations with the communist world are somehow analogous, in terms of economic warfare, to the relations in the earlier days between supreme sea power and small countries that could be blockaded.
